Another Strike at Billerica Car Shops—Strikebreakers Refuse to Work Overtime

There is another strike at the Billerica car shops, according to the members of the federated unions, who left their work a week ago last Saturday as a protest against a wage reduction announced by the federal railroad labor board, and against certain working conditions in the shops. The second strike occurred yesterday afternoon when about 200 strike breakers are alleged to have left their work after refusing to do overtime work.

According to the story given at strike headquarters this morning the men were "imported" from Boston yesterday morning and after registering their names at the main office of the shops, were put to work in the various departments of the plant. Late yesterday afternoon, so it is claimed, the men were given orders to work until five o'clock, but they refused on the ground that they would not work more than eight hours a day and that their time started the minute they left Boston. The story goes that after considerable argument the company officials finally called for a special train and the strikers were sent back to Boston. The strikers also reported that nine strikebreakers were induced to leave their work yesterday afternoon. These men, it was said, were sent to Billerica by a construction company of Boston with the understanding that they were

FRENCH OPPOSED THE IRISH SITUATION TO DISCUSSION

France Does Not Want Meeting of Powers to Talk Reparations

Great Britain in Close Touch With German Situation—Invites Poincare

PARIS, July 11. (By the Associated Press.)—The French government is opposed to an immediate meeting of the allied powers to discuss the reparations situation, and it will only consent to such a meeting as a final step. This was made plain in official circles today after a long conference between President DuBois of the commission and Premier Poincare.

At this conference the premier went over the situation with H. DuBois and outlined the French attitude to him. French officials express belief that the whole reparations issue should rest with the reparations commission until Germany fully refuses to pay any more cash.

CONCORD, N. H., July 11.—Sunday golf playing was put under the ban in this city by a letter sent today by County Solicitor Herbert W. Rainie to officers of the Beaver Meadow Golf club, warning them that further indulgence in it will be followed by prosecutions. A campaign against Sunday pastimes here has been precipitated by action against local baseball players who have staged games on the first day of the week.

CASES AGAINST CITY OF LOWELL IN SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

No Action Taken on Blazon's Petition for Writ of Mandamus—Nesmith Fund Case Reserved for Full Bench by Agreement

Two separate and distinct actions against the city of Lowell were heard this forenoon in the supreme judicial court at Boston, before Justice Crosby. A third case, brought by members of the Lowell Automobile Dealers' association seeking an injunction to restrain the city from paying for the mayor's Packard touring car and for two Packard trucks purchased for the street department, had not been called at 1 o'clock, when court adjourned.

When the case was reached a continuance is probable for the reason that City Solicitor Tierney claims that at least five of the members of the automobile association whose names appear on the bill of complaint, are not in sympathy with the action and allege that their names have been used without authorization or knowledge. The automobile dealers were represented by James H. Gilbride.

The first of the Lowell cases heard was the petition for a writ of mandamus brought by Albert J. Blazon to compel city officials to recognize him as a member of the board of assessors, despite the election of Wilfrid J. Achin to succeed him.

Judge Crosby heard the case reviewed briefly but desired more facts and ordered a continuance for one week, during which time opposing counsel shall file an agreed statement covering the entire matter. Albert S. Howard appeared for Mr. Blazon and City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney for Mr. Achin.

BIG SLUMP IN INCOME TAX FOR LOWELL

Notification has been transmitted to the local board of assessors by the state tax department that this year's returns from income taxes for Lowell is $37,465.35. This shows a decrease of $19,746.82 from last year's tax, which amounted to $107,212.17. These figures represent the difference in Lowell's share of the income tax for the years 1920 and 1921.

NO ASSISTANCE FOR WOUNDED VETERAN

Refusal of Superintendent Arnold of the state aid department to assist a wounded veteran, says by advising him to apply for work at a local mill where a strike is in progress, caused a tumult in city hall this morning. A sworn statement by the applicant in the care of Commander Garrity of the local post of the American Legion, Superintendent Arnold's first engagement with the man, Ygnas Peredra, took place yesterday morning, when he was advised to seek employment in a strike place. Peredra got in touch with Commander Garrity this morning, and accompanied by the commander, Joseph Cloutier, mayor's secretary, and a reporter, paid a second visit to the state aid department.

Government's Attempt to Maintain Trains Has Not Checked Strikers' Action

Postmaster General Work Receives Many Telegrams Telling of Interrupted Mail Service—Shots Fired in Illinois Towns—Postal Department Not to Recommend Drastic Action Until Full Reports Are Made

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The determination of the federal government to maintain transportation of mails and interstate commerce during the railway shopmen's strike failed to check today the stream of reports to the postoffice department of interference by strikers with mail trains.

S. H. Crisler, superintendent of railway mail service at St. Louis, reported in telegrams to Postmaster General Work that 3000 miles of railway mail service on the Wabash Railway were not being operated. Mr. Crisler added that the fuel situation was serious.

The St. Louis and San Francisco Railway Co. notified the department today that it had no intention of withdrawing mail trains.

No further trouble was reported to the department from Springfield and other points in Missouri where strikers were alleged yesterday to have interfered with the movement of mail matter and the situation at Kansas City was reported today to be improved.

Work Receives Message

Postmaster General Work received from the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. a telegram today stating that the company was obliged to annul the operation of its train No. 46 from Flora, Ill., to Shawneetown, Ill., yesterday morning and on that account was unable to perform United States mail service between these points because of action of strikers who would not permit railroad employees to make up trains.

The postoffice department will not, it was said, recommend drastic action by federal or state forces at any point until inspectors have made certain of the facts as reported.

Many Shots Fired

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., July 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—More than 300 shots exchanged by state guardsmen and snipers marked the first night's control of the Chicago & Alton shops by troops.

Two men hidden in a gully north of the shops fired twice at sentries shortly before 3 a. m. Three hundred rounds from automatic rifles were poured in the gully.

At daylight the place was searched, but no trace of the snipers found. Shooting was resumed at 7.15 this morning when snipers fired on a sentry at the northeast edge of the shop. No one was wounded on the soldiers' side during the night.

It was unofficially reported at the guard camp this morning that two more companies of troops would arrive today.

It is also understood that non-union workers will arrive from Chicago today.

Arrangements have been made to meet their train with two companies of troops to escort them to work.

VACATION CLASSES OPEN

Over 200 Pupils Enroll for Review Work at the Green School

Superintendent of Schools Hugh J. Molloy is very enthusiastic regarding the opening yesterday at the Green school of the vacation classes at which more than 200 pupils enrolled, ready to enter the 7th, 8th and 9th grades in September.

Superintendent Molloy says that the opening was most encouraging, for it was impossible in advance to form any estimate as to the number of boys and girls who would come. More than 400 letters were sent to parents of children, urging them to take advantage of the opportunity. The response was the enrollment of more than 200 children. They have been arranged in quite clearly defined grades, and are doing review work for the purpose of entering the upper grammar grades, as stated above. Stress will be laid on grammar, arithmetic and spelling. All of the teachers who have been assigned are most capable in this line of work.

The hours during which this school is in session are from 9 to 11.30 o'clock. As the cost for six teachers for 30 days amounts to but $700 or thereabouts, the work is of an inexpensive nature, and it is the superintendent's opinion that if the city could spend $10,000, one per cent of its annual school expenditure, on summer playgrounds and vacation class a great number of new and beneficial activities could be carried out.

FRANCE TO KEEP EXPERTS AT THE HAGUE

PARIS, July 11. (By the Associated Press.)—France has decided to keep her experts at The Hague until the end of the conference on Russian crises there, it was announced in official circles today.

This decision, it was explained, does not mark any change in the attitude of the government, which now believes that no practical good will come of The Hague conference because of the position taken by Russia. The French experts, it was stated, will remain at The Hague and endeavor with the other allies to seek some way out of the difficulty, but they do not look for success unless the Russians radically alter their stand.

MERRIMACK MILL STRIKE

Strikers Claim 500 Merrimack Mill Operatives Are Out on Strike

That 500 employees are out on strike at the Merrimack Mfg. Co. was the statement made by the strikers who held a meeting in Trades and Labor hall in Central street this morning. The strikers also claim that the dye house, bleach house, and corduroy and velvet finishing departments as well as the cutting department, are crippled to such an extent that the company this morning laid off temporarily a number of employees of other departments.

The strike occurred yesterday morning after the employees were informed of the amount of wage reduction which went into effect yesterday. It is believed, however, that some of the places of the strikers were filled in the afternoon, for men who were near the gates of the mill at 5 o'clock said that the number of employees that came out of the plant seemed larger than the number that entered in the morning.

This morning's meeting was presided over by Chairman John Hanley of the textile strike committee, and in the course of the meeting it was reported that the reduction varies from 20 to 27 per cent. The men present stated that they were in the fight to the finish and under no consideration will they return with such a scale of wages prevailing.

The strikers were addressed at length by Mr. Hanley, who told them that the only way to win the fight was to stick together. "You have a good battle on your hands," said Mr. Hanley, "but if you stick together you cannot lose. It will probably mean perseverance and endurance on your part, for the struggle may be a long one, but eventually it will lead you to victory. If you are determined to fight to the finish, well and good, but if not, you had better go back to your work now."

Mr. Hanley then explained what is required of the strikers if they join locals of the United Textile Workers of America and he urged a large picket line "morning, noon and night." He warned them to do their picketing in a law-abiding way, saying more can be gained by peaceful picketing than by strategy. He also announced that at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon there will be a mass meeting in strike headquarters, and the speakers will be Organizer Horace Rivers of Manchester, N. H., and Organizer Joseph White of Cohasset, N. Y.

Arrangements are being made for a mass meeting to be held on the North common next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

John Hanley was one of the principal speakers at a mass meeting held on the common in Lawrence at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Next Sunday afternoon a meeting of the New England conference board of the U. T. W. of A. will be held in Manchester, N. H., and Monday morning at 10 o'clock the strike leaders of the various New England textile centers will meet in Lawrence to discuss strike conditions. This meeting will be attended by John Hanley, Mrs. Annie Reagan and Frank Stimpson, chairman, treasurer and secretary respectively of the local strike committee.

POLICE HAVE PROBLEM IN JACKIE

PITTSFIELD, July 11.—The police of Great Barrington have a boy mystery on their hands in Jackie Leon Vetter, 14, who says he came east from Los Angeles, Cal. Vetter has no relatives living and came to the Berkshires from Boston a few days ago to obtain a job, according to his story. He was turned over to Chief of Police Oshman by the proprietor of the Elmhurst hotel, where he insisted on getting a snap-shot of every guest.

He speaks French, German, Spanish and reads Latin. No charge has been brought against him, and he has been placed in the care of probation officer J. W. Cropper while his case is being investigated.

He was allowed to go to Lake Buol yesterday, and when he returned in the evening he had a bathing suit, valued at $5, under his arm. Later in the evening, while walking with officer Cropper, a coin dropped out of his pocket and when he stopped to pick it up he dropped a small package which contained 32 25-cent pieces.

HAREM ATTENDANTS GO OUT ON STRIKE

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Constantinople's harem attendants have gone on strike for more money and shorter hours. Many of the capital's most famous harems have been left unguarded and their owners are trying desperately to find suitable substitutes for the strikers. Numbers of Russian refugees have volunteered their services, but it was found they were not fit for the job. The strikers insist that "the 24 hour day" and the unceasing vigil they are required to keep on the women of the harems justify better remuneration. Many of them protest that their wages have not been paid for more than a year, and in several instances they have appealed to the American committee on relief in the near east for aid. The fact is that their masters, who in most cases are officials or employees of the government have not drawn any salaries for months.

DIST. ATTY. INVESTIGATES PRICE OF MILK
BOSTON, July 11.—Dist. Atty. Thea. C. O'Brien today began a preliminary investigation into the prices of milk charged in this city. His announcement that certain facts relative to milk distribution and prices here compelled him to give the matter his immediate official attention to determine whether or not the laws of the commonwealth are being violated. Following the completion of conferences in his office the district attorney said that if it seemed proper, he would present his findings to the grand jury.

The price of milk was advanced one cent recently, making the price 13 1/2 cents to the consumer.

TROLLEY IN DIVE MISSES EMBANKMENT

WHITINSVILLE, July 11.—A Rockdale extra trolley car of the Worcester Consolidated Street railway left the rails on Church st., near Granite street, yesterday, and although it plunged almost 50 feet before crashing into a tree and coming to a stop with the rear trucks hanging over a 10-foot embankment, none of the passengers received any serious injuries. The extra was making its regular trip from Rockdale with machine shop employees and had completed about half the distance from Plummers corner to Whitinsville when the accident happened. The rear trucks were pushed at right angle to the body of the car. The rear vestibule was completely smashed. Flying glass and splinters of wood, none of the passengers was hurt. The car was crowded at the time.

At 10 o'clock, each child goes through a series of setting up exercises and then marches to the kitchen, where milk and crackers are served to each individual. Work is again resumed with the primary girls making doll hats and the boys making mats and small hammocks. The girls also weave, sew and make baskets. EXPRESSMAN IS ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

BOSTON, July 11.—Patrick Lynch, aged 35, of 35 Allen street, West End, employed by the American Express company at the North station, was accidentally shot and killed about 9.30 last night when a repeating rifle of the type used by express messengers exploded. The bullet struck Lynch in the head and his death occurred at the Relief hospital a few minutes after his arrival there. Lynch was going down a platform to meet the Troy express, which is due at the North station at 9.30, daylight saving time. With him on the truck was Stephen Fleming, a freight handler, whose home is at 950 Washington street, Brookline. The rifle had been placed on the truck by Thomas Mortimer of 39 Brent street, Dorchester, according to the police. Mortimer is employed as a messenger by the express company. He was not on the truck. On the way to the train the rifle was in some manner moved, resulting in the pulling of the trigger. It is believed the trigger caught on a bolt on the truck and a slight jar as the truck passed along the platform caused the explosion.

The accident happened just before the passengers alighted from the train and while it caused considerable excitement among those in the vicinity, few of the passengers realized what had occurred.

government agree to a meeting of the supreme council.

Dr. Fischer told the commission that Germany had succeeded in getting together sufficient foreign exchange to meet the payment of 50,000,000 gold marks due July 15, but whether this payment will be exacted has not yet been decided.

Thought Probable

A moratorium on Germany's cash payments for the remainder of this year was thought in circles close to the reparations commission to be quite probable as a result of a conference this forenoon between Dr. Fischer, chairman of the German war debts commission, and all the members of the commission, in a hurriedly called informal meeting. Roland W. Boyden, the United States representative with the commission took part in the conference.

Dr. Fischer told the commission the Germans would present a formal request for a moratorium at a meeting called by the commission for tomorrow.

This request, it was indicated in commission circles, will likely be acted upon by the commission without waiting to refer the matter to the various governments.

The letter asking for the moratorium is expected to suggest the cancellation of all the remaining payments this year, leaving the matter of a moratorium thereafter open for the time being. Under this arrangement the question of the further moratorium would be decided later upon fuller consideration and in view of what may happen in Germany in the next few weeks.

It is understood that the majority of the commission sees no other way out of the present crisis, and is therefore prepared to vote a temporary moratorium, particularly because there is general realization that no loan to Germany is immediately possible and that relief for present conditions must come quickly.

Keeping in Touch

LONDON, July 11.—Great Britain and France are in close communication concerning Germany's financial position and the reparations question.

Premier Poincare is said to plan coming to London shortly for a conference with Premier Lloyd George. The date of his arrival, however, will not be fixed until the report of the allied committee on guarantees now sitting in Berlin is considered. The report is expected some time this week.

The whole international financial situation came before the British cabinet at a meeting today, especially in its relation to the collapse of the German mark. Among the data available to the ministers were special despatches from the British ambassador. The Times today began a series of special articles discussing "The economic morass in which the world is floundering," and aiming to point the road to recovery. The writer says the latest collapse of the mark merely adds an alarming symptom to the other symptoms long noticeable.

"Great Britain alone holds the key to the whole position," he declares. "The only gateway to the path to safety is through firm, courageous treatment of the reparations problem."

In order to unlock the gate, the question of the British war indebtedness to the United States must first be settled.

Premier Poincare will probably be invited to London immediately for discussions with the prime minister, Lloyd George, on the reparations question as affected by present conditions in Germany, according to official circles here.

Twelve Best Short Movies of First Half of 1922

BY JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, July 11.—Listing the 12 best feature pictures for the first six months of 1922 is insufficient proof of the advance of film production.

Many a movie program has been saved from utter banality by a short subject accompanying the feature picture. Indeed, many of the short subjects are better from every point of analysis than many of the feature pictures.

And again, many of the short subjects are informative as well as entertaining. The intelligence of the masses has undoubtedly been elevated by such supplementary features as the Urban Movie Chats, the various news reels, the Pathé Review, the "Great American Authors" series and the va-

In presenting my selections of the best 12 short subjects for the first six months of 1922 I am not so sure of doing justice as I was in selecting the 12 best feature plays. That, because of the wide variety and great number of such films and the impracticability of previewing all of them.

Of the hundreds of such films reviewed in the last six months I believe the best to be the following:

"And Women Must Weep."
"Ballad of Fishers' Boarding House."
"Such Is Life in Volendam."
"Cold Feet."
"Pay Day."
"Poor Boy."
"Supply and Demand."
"Step This Way."

"The Dying Detective."
"The Leather Pushers."
"Peggy Behave."
"Mountain Laurel."

Robert C. Bruce interwove the dramatic elements of the sea with human tragedy in "And Women Must Weep" with such success that the story of this film is of higher degree than 90 per cent. of the feature films. It is one of his effective series called "Wilderness Tales."

"Such Is Life in Volendam" is one of the "Travelogue" series in which its maker combines photography with deft pen and ink work and comedy with informative material.

"The Dying Detective" is one of the two-reel Sherlock Holmes series which, with such short dramas as "The Ballad of Fishers' Boarding House," prove that two reels containing no stunt can be as entertaining as a feature picture containing three reels of bunk.

The one particular in which the movies have not improved is in

ACCIDENTAL DROWNING

Report Expected to Close Hotchkiss Case Unless
Coroner Objects

FAIRFIELD, Conn., July 11.—The opinion of Medical Examiner Dr. W. H. Donaldson that Jane Richmond Borden Hotchkiss, wife of Edward S. Hotchkiss of Bridgeport met death by accidental drowning at Fairfield Beach, yesterday, is expected to close the case if Coroner John J. Phelan should deem an inquest unnecessary. A note, it appears, was found requesting that the death of Mrs. Hotchkiss be turned over to a relative. This was in a pocketbook which the owner of the bathhouse, one of which had been hired by Mrs. Hotchkiss, turned over to Dr. Donaldson.

Mrs. Hotchkiss, who was 35 years of age, arrived at Fairfield Beach alone in a taxicab, and went immediately to a bathing pavilion, where she rented a bathing suit. She went into the water and less than a half-hour later her body was discovered floating with the tide.

Mr. Hotchkiss was said to be prostrated. He was formerly head of the Hotchkiss Machine Gun Co. of Bridgeport, and married Miss Borden on March 1 in Philadelphia.

GIRL AVENGES FATHER'S DEATH

MEXICO CITY, July 11 (By the Associated Press).—Maria del Pilar Moreno, a 15-year-old girl, yesterday afternoon avenged the death of her father, Jesus Z. Moreno, editor of El Terrible de Mexico, who was shot and killed last May by Deputy Francisco Tejeda Lloren after a quarrel.

Maria awaited before Tejeda Lloren's home and as he stepped from the doorway fired four times at a few feet distance. All the bullets took effect and death was instantaneous.

The child, who since her father's death, has been almost deranged with grief, calmly surrendered to the police. She expressed no regrets, says she swore vengeance over her father's body, and now that his death had been explained, she was prepared to pay the penalty.

A sensation was caused in Mexico City by the killing of Editor Moreno, by Deputy Tejeda Lloren, which took place at the entrance in the interior department building. The motive for the killing was believed to have been editor's attacks in the columns of his newspaper on what he called political evils.

Deputy Lloren was an uncle of Adalberto Tejeda, governor of Vera Cruz, and it was said that his resentment was directed more against Moreno's criticism of the state government at Vera Cruz than against any personal attacks.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

STRAND THEATRE:
"Reported Missing" with Owen Moore, and "Outside the Door" with Edith Haller are the feature attractions at the Strand the first three days of the week. Both pictures could be featured separately on any program and are acclaimed successful, but the Strand policy of double features for patrons is again being demonstrated.

This latest and greatest success of the popular Owen Moore, provides some of the most amusing and yet thrilling scenes ever depicted on the cinema. The story deals with Richard Boyd (Moore) who is indifferent and who is shipping company which has an option on a grand fleet of ships being sought by a rival oriental shipping magnate. Boyd is indifferent and who is shipping company which has an option on a grand fleet of ships being sought by a rival oriental shipping magnate.

The other picture starring Miss Haller is equally as good as "Reported Missing." Miss Haller portrays the role of Midge Hickson, a well-to-do worker and secretary to a Turkish owner of Turkish mills. A romance between Midge and the brother of the Turkish owner is cleverly worked out, and the result is especially pleasing to the audience. An excellent cast supports the star. The regular comedy, and a weekly review complete a very interesting bill.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE:
With nothing original in the plot, yet brimming with action, "South of the Border" starring Bobe Danlev and Jack Hull at the Merrimack Square the first three days of this week, is one of the pictures that audiences enjoy so much.

There is a celebration going on at Col. Huddington's ranch in honor of the two race horses, "Congo" and "Meteor," when word comes from Father Hilliard, of nearby Santa Dolores, that he has responded with his men and while he is gone two men appear at the ranch and attempt to rustle the two horses. The Colonel attempts to frustrate them and they shoot him down, getting away with "Meteor." When Bob returns he wears a scarce on the murderers and sets out on Comet to find them. He becomes a law to himself, when the government confutes his property. Later he meets Val Hannon, daughter of John Hannon, at Father Hilliard's mission and then the story works out to a satisfactory conclusion.

Mrs. May stars in the second picture, "The Greatest Truth" and it is a melodrama with many gorgeous scenes. Miss May is very seductive and draws the hero on by her wiles. A comedy adapted from Aesop's fables, "The Wise Duck" and the International News complete the bill.

Railroad Strike

curtailment of train service and additional troops on duty at several trouble centers marked the progress of the rail strike today. Ranks of the strikers also were recruited, as clerks on the Norfolk & Western were authorized to strike at 10 a. m. today.

Troops were on guard over railroad property at Bloomington and Clinton, Ill., Parsons, Kas., and New Franklin, Mo., with other units under arms, ready to entrain.

United States marshals were protecting the mails on southwestern lines and guarding the Burlington shops at Aurora, Ill., which had been surrounded by 1000 pickets.

Many injunctions were blanketed with injunctions issued by federal courts restraining strikers from interfering with operations of trains and shops. Picketing was general throughout the country.

New York and the east began to feel the combined effects of the strike of coal miners and railway shopmen. Twenty-one passenger trains on the Erie and all double sections of the West Shore were discontinued, and all express trains on the Norfolk & Western were said to have been delayed three to six hours because of shortage of locomotives and coal.

Labor leaders predicted that further curtailment of service was imminent. Following mass meetings of strikers in the New York area, union leaders declared that their followers were 100 per cent. staunch.

Eastern roads, including the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and the Delaware & Hudson announced they had enough mechanics, surplus locomotives and rolling stock to continue present service indefinitely.

The Missouri Pacific, in its assurance to Gov. Allen of Kansas that no trains would be taken off the lines in that state, rescinded its earlier order discontinuing 124 local passenger and mixed trains.

Deputies On Duty

Several hundred deputies under United States marshals were protecting the operation of trains on the Texas & Pacific, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, and the International and Great Northern railroads, which are in federal receivership. The Santa Fe announced that it "was on top of the strike" and that the situation was improving steadily.

National guard troops from Booneville and Columbia, Mo., were ordered to New Franklin, following alleged threats by strikers warning officials of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas to leave town within 24 hours.

Bloomington, Ill., was one of the outstanding trouble centers, but apprehension was somewhat abated by the presence of state troops.

The tension at Bloomington was aggravated by the clerks, who quit work after they had announced they would refuse to continue while troops were on guard in the shops. Officials of the train service brotherhood also protested against the presence of soldiers.

Renew Protest

Officials of the striking shop crafts renewed their protest against the military occupation but promised they would do all that was possible to avert trouble.

The strike and resultant cancellation of trains has interrupted the United States senatorial campaign in Missouri, candidates being compelled to revise their itineraries.

Fresh acts of violence occurred in California: At Rosville, 15 miles from Sacramento, an employee of the Pacific Fruit Express was shot while on duty at a car icing plant. Armed strike sympathizers were said to be occupying positions commanding the plant.

At Newcastle, Cal., attempts were made to dynamite one of the largest water tanks on the southern Pacific system.

The railroads are generally endeavoring to operate their shops and union headquarters stands firm in its determination to continue the strike.

straight slap-stick comedy. The only one which showed originality in gag was "Step This Way."

Chaplin, the screen's greatest artist, created one of the best comedies of the season in "Pay Day" but it falls short of the Chaplin standard. He seemed uncertain as to whether he should make it out-and-out slap-stick or a satire.

"Poor Boy" is Lloyd Hamilton's best comedy and in my estimation it was as good as "Pay Day."

"Supply and Demand" was a clever juvenile comedy of political tendency that Booth Tarkington might well have been proud to write.

"Peggy Behavior" served to exploit the highly developed pantomime of Baby Peggy. "Cold Feet" was a clever satire on the movie itself.

Thus in this list is included only one comedy that stuck to straight funmakers, found no place in my list because in the main they consisted of old gags.

Buster Keaton's comedies have been generally good, but they have not reached the quality of his earlier ones and they were neither slap-stick nor well-defined satire.

Lincoln, nor any of the great men of the past years could accomplish. He handed down, to posterity a moving, spirited likeness of himself that now and for years to come will entertain countless thousands in all corners of the earth.

Bobby Connelly was a motion picture actor. He started his screen career at three. Always of delicate health, he succumbed to an attack of bronchitis.

It was that very delicacy of appearance that gave his parts deep pathos. His bit in "Humoresque" helped give that film its great human appeal.

Senator Edge Serves Notice on Senate Relative to Proposed Tariff Measure

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Announcing that he was far from satisfied with the administration tariff bill in its present form, Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey, served notice today in the senate that he would not vote for the measure if it failed to provide, otherwise than through congressional action, some method by which individual schedules could be revised as circumstances and investigations warranted. Provision for such revision by the president is contained in the bill.

ICE STILL MENACE TO NAVIGATION

BOSTON, July 11.—Evidence that ice is still a menace to navigation in the northern shipping lanes came to this city today, when the Shipping board steamer St. Anthony, which reached Montreal yesterday, was reported to her managers, C. H. Sprague & Son of Boston, as in a damaged and leaking condition, after her voyage from Scandinavian ports.

The ship encountered heavy field ice in the Straits of Belle Isle, and limped up the St. Lawrence river with holes in her bow at the water line and with many plates loosened. She was unloading in the forepeak and No. 1 hold. She will be placed in drydock and repaired before loading her next cargo.

MAYOR BLOWS UP COURT HOUSE

ROME, July 11.—Arrested on a charge of manufacturing bombs, Philadelphia's mayor, Antonio F. Sica, blew up the court house, killing all the occupants, says a despatch to the Central News.

Many Chinese women have become distinguished poetesses.

Nearly 1000 American towns have been named after towns in England.

STEAL RING OWNED BY PATRICK HENRY

SPRINGLAKE, N. J., July 11.—A diamond ring, once the property of Patrick Henry, was in the $2500 loot obtained June 29 by burglars who robbed the home of the patriot's great-grandson, William L. Royall, at 314 Tuttle avenue. An antique English hunting case watch, once the timepiece of Chief Justice Marshall of the United States supreme court, was also stolen.

Mr. Royall, who is a son-in-law of Thomas A. Buckner, vice-president of the New York Life Insurance company, is agency director of that corporation and a summer resident of the Springlake colony. He declared yesterday that no clue had been obtained of the burglars, who apparently gained entrance by using a key to a rear door.

house vacant to take in a "movie." Mrs. Royall returned home for a few minutes, but she left at about 1 o'clock. When she returned to her bedroom at 11 o'clock that night she found that a bureau had been thoroughly ransacked. A jewel case, in which her diamonds had been stored, was lying empty on the floor. In addition, to the Henry ring and the watch, pearls and other gems had been taken.

In their search for valuables the thieves overlooked jewelry which Mr. Royall yesterday would describe only as "very valuable." These gems have since been placed in a safety deposit vault in a Manhattan bank.

TO TEST STATUTE ON TONNAGE TAX

ALBANY, N. Y., July 11.—Att. Gen. Charles D. Newton took steps today to test in the United States supreme court the constitutionality of the Pennsylvania statute imposing a tonnage tax on anthracite coal.

The tax, the attorney general alleges, will increase the cost of hard coal in all eastern states depending upon Pennsylvania for their supplies. The Pennsylvania courts have upheld the validity of the state law authorizing its imposition.

Mr. Newton joined in an application to Chief Justice McShick of the Pennsylvania supreme court for permission to carry the case to the supreme court of the United States and at the same time, sent telegraphic appeals to the attorney general of New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Delaware to co-operate in the movement.

"WORLD'S FASTEST HUMAN"
SANTA BARBARA, Cal., July 11.—Charles Paddock, "the world's fastest human," is out to break the record for 300 yards and the quarter mile. He announced yesterday he would make the attempt at the old fair grounds here, where he broke five world records July 4. He has made the 300 yards in 30.1-5 seconds.

WALTHAM BOY FACES CHARGE

FRAMINGHAM, July 11.—John B. Walker, 13, son of E. C. Walker, late mayor of Waltham, and graduate of the Waltham high school in the class of 1921, was arraigned in the local court yesterday charged with the larceny of an automobile.

In order that State Officers Kurlin and Sherlock may have time to make a further investigation into the young man's career, the case was continued to Nov. 1 and Walker was released under $1000 bonds.

Although the charge against Walker at present is based solely upon the larceny of an auto owned by Earl G. Moulton, president of the New England Trust Co. of Fitchburg, the state police are working on the theory that they will be able to lodge various other charges against the young man. The officials say that conditions at the abandoned McDonald farm in Wayland indicate that more than one stolen auto has been headquartered and disguised there.

LIFESAVERS STRIKE
OCEAN CITY, N. J., July 11.—The Ocean City beach patrol, members of which have a remarkable record for saving venturesome bathers, struck in a body last night, leaving the long beach unprotected.

The life guards, who so far this season have not had a drowning to mar their record, walked out because the city refused to increase their wages. They are paid $15 a week, $2.50 of which is deducted each week for their uniforms. They demand a minimum of $25 a week.

There are about 25 men in the patrol.

FRENCH-AMERICAN ORPHANAGE OUTING

The annual outing for the children of the French-American orphanage in Pawtucket street was held today at the O.M.I. novelties in Tewksbury. As in previous years the affair was conducted under the auspices of the members of St. Joseph's sewing circle and proved very enjoyable for all the little ones who attended.

Forty automobiles furnished gratis by prominent residents of the city through the efforts of Mayor Brown and his secretary, conveyed the 250 children of the home to the outing grounds, the start from the orphanage being made at 8:45 o'clock.

At the novelties the little ones were welcomed by the clergy and shortly after their arrival games and sports were started. There were races of all descriptions and suitable prizes were awarded the winners. At noon a bountiful dinner was served in the open and the afternoon was taken up with more amusements. Looking after the welfare of the children were the sisters of the orphanage, the members of the circle and Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I., and Rev. Joseph A. Bolduc, O.M.I. The arrangements were in charge of Rev. J. A. Bolduc, O.M.I., and Mrs. C. H. Boisvert, president of the circle.

COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS
Previous to the meeting of the city council tonight, the committee on claims will go into session at 7 o'clock. The committee is composed of Commissioners Adams, Stearns, Chretien, Cameron and McManis, with Commissioner Adams as chairman.

MAY ISSUE BIG SUM IN BONDS

AUGUSTA, Me., July 11.—The Boston & Maine railroad was authorized yesterday by the public utilities commission to issue $1,000,000 bonds, the proceeds to be used to pay in part the balance of the indebtedness due the director general of railroads for money expended for betterments and addition to the property of the company and its subsidiaries during federal control.

BAKERS CONVENT
BURLINGTON, Vt., July 11.—About 250 members of the New England Baking association held its bi-monthly meeting in this city and on Lake Champlain yesterday. Aside from business and speech-making, a golf tournament was staged, the lowest score being turned in by Ralph D. Ward of New York. Second prize was won by J. P. Thompson of Boston, third by Edward Johnson of Boston, fourth by Leo Tannerholtz of Boston.

At a meeting of the officers and governors of the association, the secretary was instructed to send a resolution to the National Baking association supporting its stand against proposed exorbitant tariff on materials used in bread and baking products. It was voted to endorse the selection of the place of the annual meeting at the Ocean house, Swampscott, Mass.

YEAST PLANT DAMAGED

REVOLUTION FRUSTRATED
PARIS, July 11.—Plans for a monarchist revolution in Portugal headed for Sunday were successfully frustrated by the government, says a dispatch to Le Journal. About 100 persons were arrested, including Comandant Souza and many officers, and Alvaro de Castro, former premier.

REBELS ACTIVE
MADRID, July 11.—Renewed activities by the Moroccan rebels are reported in an official statement issued today. A Spanish convoy was attacked in the Tetuan area, and in the ensuing fight the Spanish lost 11 killed and five wounded.

TO START RECRUITING
WASHINGTON, July 11.—After a year's suspension, recruiting for the navy, under orders published today will be resumed. Sixty-five thousand men will have to enlist or re-enlist in the coming year to keep the navy up to the standard Souza and many officers, and Alvaro de Castro, former premier.

TEN HORSES BURNED IN PORTLAND FIRE

PORTLAND, Me., July 11.—Ten horses were lost in a fire that destroyed the stables of Stephen A. Kerrigan on St. James street early yesterday, and for a time threatened to spread to the plant of the Turner Centre Creamery adjoining.

Officer Joseph W. Driscoll was returning from his post at Stroudwater, when he saw the flames shooting from the lower part of the stable. Officers Ray Bryant and E. L. Wallace joined him as he started for the stable, after sending in an alarm.

A pair of horses, the property of Ralph Oakley of 57 Burnham street, were saved by the officers before they were finally driven from the blazing building. Another attempt was made to rescue the horses when more men arrived on the scene, but the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to enter the building.

As the flames broke through the roof they furnished a sight that drew scores to the scene. A wrightman of the creamery company ran a dozen machines from the garage to safety, when it was feared the flames would spread from the stable. The firemen were kept busy for over an hour and a half before the fire was under control.

One thousand gallons of paint are required to paint the dome of the Capitol in Washington.

CONTRACT FOR STATE PRINTING

Labor Unions Win a Victory in a Most Unusual Way in Boston

New Contract Made by Commission Results in Saving of $50,000 to State

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, July 11.—One of the prettiest little squabbles the executive officials of the state have seen for a long time has just been settled in a most unusual manner.

It had to do with the contract for the state's printing, a contract which involves the expenditure of more than half a million dollars annually. In fact, two years ago, it ran over $700,000, and is likely to approach the $800,000 figure this year because of the need for printing ballots to be used at primaries and the state election.

For many years the state's printing has been done by The Wright & Potter Printing company, the largest printing establishment in Boston. Only a few years ago, the firm built a magnificent plant, immediately in the rear of the capitol building. In order that they might thereby increase their efficiency in handling the state's business.

The plant has been run on a union basis, and for the past ten years the contract has specified that the working hours on state's business should not exceed forty-four per week. This limitation has rankled in the breasts of open shop printing establishments.

WINGARNS

The Tonic and Restorative endorsed by over 10,000 Physicians for those who are Weak, Nervous, or Run-down

Two sizes: $1.10 and $1.95
At all good druggists

In Boston, and apparently there was a concerted effort on their part this year either to have this clause eliminated, or to get the contract away from the Wright & Potter company.

When the legislature had under consideration a bill to renew the contract, an amendment was offered in the lower branch providing that there should be no contractual limitation of hours. This was defeated, although twice offered. Finally the bill went to the senate, where the amendment was again offered and defeated, after which the upper branch rejected the bill.

This left the question up in the air, inasmuch as the previous contract expired, by its terms, on July first. Department heads began to have visions of a very difficult year in which each would be permitted to have his printing done wherever he might see fit. But wiser counsel finally prevailed, and in its closing hours the legislature created a commission, consisting of seven public officials to prepare and award a new contract for the state printing.

This commission, in due time, prepared a new contract, advertised and received four bids. Four bids were received, and to their amazement it was found that Wright & Potter were the highest bidder, their figures having advanced more than fifty per cent. In at least one instance, over the price for which they have done the work during the past five years.

Two of the four bids, the lowest in amount, were rejected, the commission deciding that neither of the bidders would be able to perform the work satisfactorily in manner and time. The second bidder, George H. Ellis and Company, convinced the commission that it could meet the requirements of the contract, and as its bid involved a saving of at least $50,000 annually to the state, it was finally accepted.

Then came the first hitch. The commission decided to award the contract for two years, and although the Ellis company had submitted its bid on a two-year basis, it refused to sign the contract unless it was made for five years, arguing that it would be necessary to install much special equipment, and that the profits on a two-year contract would be insufficient to meet the cost.

The commission, however, remained firm in its insistence upon a two-year contract, a majority being unwilling to tie the Commonwealth to an arrangement which might prove unsatisfactory, principally because the Ellis plant is somewhat remote from the state house. This created an impasse and for a time it appeared that negotiations were tied in a Gordian knot for the attorney-general, who was chairman of the special commission, decided that, having voted to give the contract to the Ellis company, the commission had no right to take it away.

But when the officials of the Ellis company became convinced that there was no possibility of extending the contract to five years, they lost all interest in it, and with their consent, it was finally arranged that the contract should be signed by them and then assigned to the Wright & Potter company, the latter company agreeing to accept the figures named in the Ellis bid.

Consequently the state printing will be done in just the same manner as in the immediate past, by the same company, but at a saving to the state of at least $50,000 from that company's original bid.

The labor unions, and particularly those affiliated with the printing craft, hail the result as a great victory for them, but as a matter of fact the union features of the controversy were never discussed in the commission's deliberations and it was settled without regard to their desires. That their relationship to the situation had much to do with the bids, however, there can be no doubt, and the fact that the contract is to be performed by a company operated under their rules will naturally be a source of gratification to them. The fact that the forty-four hour week provision has been omitted from the present contract will probably have no effect upon them, as they will refuse to permit their members to work longer, and the printing company apparently has no intention of changing to an open shop basis.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

"Our sink had such a horrid odor"

"Our kitchen sink became positively objectionable. We tried everything—poured in gallons of hot soda suds, ammonia, lye water. Nothing seemed to help. Finally, John sent for the plumber.

"He opened up the trap—the curved pipe under the sink. My dear! That's where the small came from! I never knew a sink drain could be so dreadful.

"After the plumber left, the odor was not so bad for a while, but then it grew worse.

"I'm so proud of my clean, little kitchen. That sink made me too blue for anything.

"Last Thursday evening, the Lynns were over, and Mrs. Lynn came into the kitchen to help me with the coffee and sandwiches.

"What a perfect dear of a kitchen you have," she said, going over to rinse her hands at the sink—and then I saw her smile fade.

"She is such a model housekeeper. I felt like crying. 'Oh, isn't it too dreadful!'—I managed to say. 'And we've done everything'.

"It was then she told me about Sylpho-Nathol.

"It didn't seem possible, but Mrs. Lynn had had a sink that smelled even worse, she said, than mine. And Sylpho-Nathol made it sweet and clean over night.

"Next morning, I phoned the grocer to include a bottle of Sylpho-Nathol in my order. Following directions on the package, I put a teaspoonful into a quart of warm water and poured the clean-smelling, pearly gray solution into the sink drain.

"From that minute, my sink has smelled just as sweet and clean as it always looked.

"I use Sylpho-Nathol in a lot of ways for fresh water that not only cleans and sweetens, but destroys all kinds of germs at a sprinkle that chases away damp, musty, cellar smells; for the laundry tubs, ice-box drains and garbage cans. And, of course, I use it regularly in the bathroom, around the toilet fixtures, and as a weekly flush for the closet bowls.

Sylpho-Nathol is 4½ times stronger than Carbolic Acid—yet is as safe to have in the house as a cake of soap. It comes in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Complete directions are on the bottle. Your grocer or druggist has it. If he hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

THE BOY SCOUT FUND REACHES $3200

The Boy Scout reorganization committee met last night, in the chamber of commerce rooms. Reports of team captains in the drive for funds showed a total of approximately $3200 to date. The majority of this is ready cash. Final reports are being tabulated and the result will be announced at the meeting next Monday evening, when an effort will be made to have the 15 members of the original executive committee present.

A motion was made and carried that a permanent council be chosen and that a first class charter for this council be applied for. The question of details of organization and the application for the charter will be referred to the executive committee, which will report its plans for confirmation at the next meeting.

New England Scout Executive R. N. Berry of Boston, was present at last night's meeting and offered timely suggestions. A special executive committee was appointed which will meet Thursday evening for the purpose of arranging details relative to the formation of a permanent council. They will report their progress at the general meeting on Monday.

MIDWAY NETS THE CITY ABOUT $6000

THE MAYOR AND THE CHARTER

We are now having another instalment of the unsavory notoriety which seems to be one of the inevitable accompaniments of Mayor Brown's administration. Since the beginning of the year, the mayor has been in a continuous wrangle over the choice of heads of departments. In his inaugural address, he made glowing promises of reform, economic administration and strict enforcement of the provisions of the city charter; but, strange to say, no other official at city hall has run about of the organic law of our city as often as the mayor.

In his inaugural he laid great stress upon the necessity of conducting the purchasing agent's office with strict fairness and in full accord with the requirement of competitive bidding. Here is part of his statement in reference to the supply department: "The man whom I shall name for purchasing agent will establish in this office an unquestioned system of honest competitive bidding, and before he is long in the position, he will have the confidence and respect of all people who desire to do business with the city on an honest basis."

That the mayor of the city should have so far departed from his inaugural promise to enforce competitive bidding as to make a farce and a deadletter of that part of our city charter, in his purchase of motor vehicles—two for the departments in charge of the Board of Public Service and one for his personal use, is quite astounding. There was no objection to his purchase of a new car, although it was not necessary, but it was expected that at least the mode of purchase would comply with the law. Yet it didn't. The passenger Packard car purchased at $2298 was registered for the mayor's department about two days before the bids were opened. As for the two Packard trucks purchased for the Public Service Board no bids were called for before the trucks were purchased and delivered to the departments.

Here is a sample of how Mayor Brown carries out his promises made on assuming office and during the election campaign. Through a reorganized Board of Public Service in which the two temporary appointees are his pliant tools, he makes an attempt to legalize the purchase of the two motor trucks; but this will not rectify the irregularity by which they were originally placed in service of the departments without competition.

This disregard of the charter might have been less reprehensible if the city had not already during the first half of the year, invested about $32,000 in motor vehicles. Thus the mayor after all his protestations of firm purpose to give an economic administration of the city's affairs, added nearly $15,000 to the total amount spent for motor vehicles this year and in a manner that has led to injunction proceedings on the question of legality.

The mayor exceeded his authority in going over the heads of the Public Service Board, to create the office of superintendent of ash collection and appoint the incumbent at $48 per week. The fact that the members of the board who have been removed, repudiated these acts of the mayor was to their credit, but their removal quickly followed on another charge however.

It is in order at this juncture to call the attention of the citizens to the danger that lurks in the Public Service Board if it be as at present constituted, merely a rubber stamp to ratify the acts and wishes of the mayor. The two temporary appointees control the board so that Engineer Bowers is overruled on every division. With such a board and a mayor to use it for his own purposes in building up a great political machine, he could so entrench himself in office that it would be a most difficult task to dislodge him. Here then is the danger of Mayor Brown's policy of intermeddling with the departments and trying to dominate their action so as to comply with his wishes at every move. The Board of Public Service if permitted to do its work in its own way would prove a very useful body in improving the conditions of the departments under its charge; but if obliged to obey the beck and nod of the mayor, regardless of who he may be, its usefulness is destroyed.

Apparently Mayor Brown has not yet come to realize that he is not a "city manager" as he must think he is, when he says that he "is running the city." He must be made to realize that the head of each department is responsible for results therein and that it is for the results the mayor should look instead of continually harassing the departments and disorganizing their work by unwarranted dictation and bossism.

ANOTHER MILL STRIKE

It is deeply to be regretted that the trouble in the Merrimack mills cannot be adjusted without a strike. We are confident that it could be settled satisfactorily if there was any organization or committee holding the confidence of both sides to take the matter up at a conference of the parties and willing to base a settlement upon a just presentation of the facts.

It cannot be denied that the textile business in face to face with great difficulties, especially here in New England; but on the other hand the operatives are justified in holding out for a living wage. The question to be decided is, whether the new scale of wages offered by the company has a purchasing power equal to what the previous wage scale had, say six months ago. In some industries the tendency is to lower wages, whereas in others, wages either remain stationary or are slightly advanced. It is remarkable that while some operatives of long experience find it difficult to earn $18 or $20 per week in the mills, we find mechanics and artisans earning from 75 cents to a dollar an hour in several of the building trades.

Where this prevails the men are getting more than they deserve as compared with the rate of wages paid in the factories. Where one workman gets more than he should, he is taking something away from the one who is underpaid. But at the present time, as has been the custom even in prosperous times, everybody gets as much as he can regardless of who is cheated or who gets the short end. The fact is, that the country has not yet reached a fair adjustment of wages or a fair stabilization of prices. What is true of wages is equally true of prices. Some commodities have fallen in price to the level of 1914, whereas others are still hovering on the scale that prevailed in the years following the war. It will require six months or more to overcome these inequalities that cause so much trouble in the purchase of supplies and the adjustment of wages.

It is probable that these difficulties will not be fully overcome until the tariff bill now before congress is enacted and put into operation. The general belief is, that it will soon result in an increase of prices, which will speedily overcome the present controversies if they should still remain unsettled. There will then be a demand for higher wages instead of a fight against reductions.

THE PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS

The city of Lowell has opened a number of playgrounds in which more elaborate programs will be provided for the benefit of the children than ever before. It is, therefore, the duty of parents to see that their children attend and derive all possible benefits from the exercises, the discipline and training offered. Attendance at the playgrounds should at least have the effect of keeping the children off the streets and, therefore, leaving them less liable to meet with accidents.

It seems that part of the exercises of the playgrounds should consist of teaching the children to avoid the dangers of the streets, the dangers of fire and the dangers of drowning. Perhaps the warning voice of the playground supervisor would make a deeper impression upon the minds of the children than that of parental authority, which seems to lose its force from frequent repetition. There is hardly a child that leaves its home without the warning, "Be careful and keep off the streets," but this warning is soon forgotten or disobeyed. The playground supervisors in addition to their other work can render a very important service to the community by giving the children a little instruction in the principles of safety first.

With nearly 2,000 cases of infantile paralysis in Massachusetts being treated at the present time, the campaign against this dread disease appears to need invigoration if it is ever to be effective. More than 100,000 men, women and children are today sufferers from this disease throughout the country—a startling record.

If we had less of the political bickering and bawling at city hall our mayor and city council might do something in the line of settling strikes and promoting industrial peace.

The proposition to extend the three mile limit six times as far off shore, if adopted, would increase the price of mackerel and reduce the quality.

Respect for the law will help the cause of labor everywhere. Lowell strikers are fighting for right living conditions by strictly legal methods.

As yet the state police have not arrested the racers who caused the fatal smash-up at Bedford. Yet it is said they are known to the police.

President Harding wants the miners' strike arbitrated, which is the proper course to pursue.

New let us see how much the supervised playgrounds can do for the children.

There are evidently still many incompetent and reckless auto drivers on the public highways.

Today's Word

Today's word is "antidote." It's pronounced an-ti-dot, with accent on the first syllable. The a and i are short and the o long. It is most commonly used as a noun, and means a remedy for poison or other evil. As a noun it is used with "against," "for," or "to." But it may also be a transitive verb, thus "He could not antidote the poison." It comes from the Latin antidotum, derived from the Greek "anti" against. It's used like this: "Republucans are the antidotes for oppression."

Sure Enough Exception

Among the crowd sitting around the stove at the village store was a droll, illiterate fellow, Joe. Another member of the group was Wiley, a young highbrow, just back from college. Eager to enlighten his benighted townsman, young Wiley was dispensing his newly acquired wisdom freely, and after making several other sagacious observations, remarked: "One must begin at the bottom and go up." "Yes," agreed Joe, "you must begin at the bottom of everything but one." "And what's that, Joe?" inquired the collegian. "Diggin' a well!"—Judge.

Close Acquaintance

"Just what do you mean by a close acquaintanceship?" asked the golfer. "This," replied the caddy, pointing to his legs. "I'm wearin' a pair of Mr. Ralfour's trousers."—London Times.

The Grand Concert

It was the night of the grand concert, and approaching the hour at which it had been advertised to commence, Blobbo and Bimbo had taken tremendous pains over it. Almost as much pain as it would give to the people who came to listen to it. They had engaged an enormous hall, with a seating capacity of 4000, and expected to make large profits. At 7 o'clock the money-takers, ticket-takers, ushers and attendants were assembled en masse in the hall. Then came the following scene: "Money-takers all ready?" "Yes, sir!" "Ticket-takers all ready?" "Yes, sir!" "Ushers and attendants stand by the door!" "Yes, sir!" "Now open the doors!" The iron doors crashed open. There was a terrific gust of wind as two small boys entered. "Pleese, mister," said a tiny voice, "can we both get in on this free pass?"

None For Breakfast

The nervous young man was standing in front of the club notice board reading the news and biting his nails. Suddenly a voice boomed in his ear the following awful sentence: "There won't be any for breakfast!" The young man turned and beheld tall, dignified fellow-member of about 75, who glared at him. The glare was so terrific that the young man was forced to ask "Won't be any what, sir?" "Finger nails!" boomed the old fellow.

With the spray thrown far by her

And the gull-drift flashing past!
Give me a yacht in a spanking breeze,
With the lee rail under the brise,
As I steer her course with a steady hand,
And feel that the world is mine!

Give me a yacht when the blizzards break
And the glistering whitecaps roll,
Till I laugh with joy as I look around
At the track of the foaming wake,
Give me a yacht, till the roll and the pitch
Are beginning to make me sick,
And my poor head aches, and the whole world swims—
Then give me the land—oh, quick!

MUST NOT MARRY

UNLESS WAGE EARNER

NEW YORK, July 11.—No woman will be permitted to get married in New York state unless she can convince the authorities she has a living—that is, if Dr. Anna Hochfelder, democratic candidate for the state senate from the fourth senatorial district, is elected, and if she can make her fellow legislators see things her way.

The women would not, however, be required to show they could support husbands as well. The idea, Dr. Hochfelder said, is that no woman ought to marry unless she is in a position to take care of herself and her children in case she loses her husband.

Other planks in her platform call for sex education and eugenic marriages.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

At last the street department is directing its efforts towards Pawtucketville. That is, it has carried over substations in some of the streets and that is a sure sign that sidewalk walks will soon be laid in the district. For some years past, very little attention has been given the district, perhaps because the residents of that territory were not interested enough in petitioning for their needs, or again because it was felt by the city fathers that as long as there were no complaints, everything was all right. Fourth avenue has been an accepted thoroughfare for years, but one side of the thoroughfare has always been under curbing, but pretty soon the edges-stones will be laid and I am informed that the landlards, that is, some of them, will grasp the opportunity and will have recent sidewalks laid out. The sidewalk he saw about a portion of White street, which was accepted by the city some three or four years ago, but which has always been left in a deplorable condition. Curbing have also been brought in and it is hoped that while the edges-stones are laid the street department will also grade the centre of the road and make it passable. Pawtucketville is one of the important residential districts of the city and should be looked after by city officials. The residents of White street, from Moody street to Riverside, Second and Third avenues, as well as Ardell street are very anxious to have a fire alarm installed in their district. The nearest point to put in an alarm is at Pawtucket square or at the corner of Fourth avenue and Mammoth road, and a blaze in any of the houses in that locality would get the fire department so busy that the fire alarm system. Chief Saunders states that he has not the money for such an improvement and, furthermore, he says that it would be impossible to lay out the cable as the cable is full to capacity. It indicates that no improvement can be made until an entire new fire alarm system is installed in the city. This is a matter that should receive the attention of the city council.

The past few weeks there have been numerous recitals in Lowell by the pupils of various teachers, piano, violin and vocal. In conversation with one of these teachers, a complaint was made that the pupils spend countless hours of study and practice in preparation for the grand finale to the season's work. It is indeed tedious and sometimes discouraging for the teacher to spend his time in teaching a child to play the young pupil in the final moments of the composition to be rendered. Lowell is fortunately well supplied with talent in this line and the exhibition at the close of the season brings out the best of the season's work. The pupils, and also give an opportunity to the younger ones to appear in public.

Lowell druggists are in receipt of a letter designated "A Post Mortem" and dealing with a recent whiskey investigation by a Boston newspaperman. In his lengthy commentary, the writer contends that the enforcement of national prohibition has taught some of the old time retail liquor dealers how much they had to learn about liquor and the liquor business in which they were engaged. In the old days a retail liquor dealer would ask the price and order and accept a barrel of whiskey from the rectifier without so much as sampling it. All that was required was that the whiskey was colored dark and that it had a "kick" in it sufficient to cause the drinker to stagger home singing "If I Am." Now, however, the unprincipled bootlegger's color is his stuff with brown sugar and molasses and increases a normal 10 gallons to the neighborhood of 50 gallons by using adulterated mixtures. The old fallacy of "bottled in bond" is deceptive, claims this writer. The form has not the same reference to the quality of the liquor as it used to, but simply means that it was bottled under government supervision in a bonded warehouse. Yet it may be the poorest whiskey in the world. Barnum's saying applies forcibly to the drinking public of today.

The new traffic seasons are making a decided hit locally. Besides their utility, the beacons are ornamental and imposing, especially at night. The green and red lights can be seen for some distance away and the command, "Keep to the Right," is conspicuous enough for the least observant to see. The lights in Massachusetts have had marked success with the new idea and it is only proper that Lowell keep up with the style. I noticed quite a number of these beacons around Boston and its suburbs and everywhere they are proving satisfactory.

"I wish I were a kid again," is the expression I heard one day recently coming from an elderly person on the South common. The cause for the remark was a group of youngsters splashing about in the soothing waters of the pond on the common. The scene was typical of the "old swimmin' hole" with children of all descriptions and nationalities ducking here and there and avoiding the splashing of playful companions and counter-attacking with childish vigor. Improved bathing suits, none of them of the prize-winning variety, add a humorous touch to the scene. Less fortunate ones cannot resist the temptation to cool off and wade into the water all dressed up in their Sunday clothes, minus of course, their shoes. Even dogs take their daily dip and afford amusement to their fellow-bathers. The ancient cry, "Ho! for the beach," is now supplanted by the chorus, "Ho for the South common!"

The work of the park department in restoring the haxelall diamond on the South common to playing condition is worthy of commendation. To view the site after the midway one would think that the grounds could never be reconditioned in such quick order. It is the consensus of opinion that the diamond as it is today is even better than it was before the July 4 period, and that is saying a great deal. Several players of Twilight league teams were surprised at the smoothness of the surfaces after the disturbance resulting from the alkali water, and noticed an improvement in their playing. Some fast baseball will be played if the work of care-taking continues as at present and both players and fans will appreciate it.

What promises to be of great inconvenience to traffic for a time at least, is the laying of new track and reconstruction work in Central street on and near the canal bridge in that section. Yesterday the street railway company started a one track system over the bridge and the other track was laid out and the result is that traffic is stopped for the time being. The traffic office at the junction of Central and Market streets will have a merry time of it while it lasts. When a car is going over the switch, the trolley is prone to sever its connection with the wire and the man in charge is kept busy replacing it. Passers-by stop for a moment to witness the untangling of traffic tie-ups.

ELKS DEDICATE SITE FOR NEW HOME

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 11.—One of the features of the opening day's program of the 53th annual reunion of the Grand Lodge of Elks was the dedication yesterday afternoon of the site of the proposed new million dollar home of the Atlantic City lodge No. 278, on Virginia avenue near the boardwalk.

Gov. Edwards of New Jersey delivered the address of welcome at the opening session last night on the steel pier. Harry Bacharach, grand seigneur, and former mayor of this city, president, the Rev. John Dwyer, grand chaplain, delivered the invocation. The response was by Grand Exalted Ruler William Wallace Mountain of Toledo.

Dedicate Ground
The dedication of the ground for a handsome clubhouse, which will be placed at the convenience of visiting Elks by the shore fraternity, was marked by simple ceremonies and took place in the presence of several thousand visitors. Grand Esquire Bacharach, who was master of ceremonies, declared the proposed home would be "a foremost landmark in the history of Atlantic City." Ground was broken by Grand Exalted Ruler Mountain, wielding a golden spade. The spade is the property of the Shore lodge and will eventually be displayed in a prominent place in the new structure.

The Elks continued arriving here from every section of the country. One of the largest delegations disembarked from the "California Special" at 4 o'clock yesterday morning with more than 1000 visitors. Exalted Ruler Frank Allen is at the head of this delegation from New York No. 1. Unlike many of the other exalted rulers who are stopping with the national officers at the Traymore, he is with his own delegation at The Breakers.

New York, the "Mother lodge," will occupy the position of honor at the head of the parade on Thursday which will be reviewed by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt. Exalted Ruler Fallon declared last night that New York would have probably 750 in its delegation. The band and drill corps is coming down Thursday morning. "Uncle Joe" Cannon with 500 men on black elgar expects to lead the congressional delegation in the pageant.

The first executive business session commenced today with Grand Exalted Ruler William Wallace Mountain presiding. An important report was that of the Elks national memorial headquarters building commission headed by former Governor John K. Tener of Pennsylvania.

According to the report of the grand secretary, Fred Robinson, charitable work done by the Elks since 1880 amounts to $12,730,433.20.

MAY USE AUTOS FOR BATH HOUSES
BOSTON, July 11.—"Auto" bathing, the practice of disrobing for bathing in an automobile, is perfectly proper in the Bay State, in the opinion of the members of the Metropolitan Park commission, despite the fact that a New York man was fined $10 and costs in New London yesterday, in the opening of the New London authorities' campaign against auto bathing.

The Metropolitan Park commission's view is that so long as the proprietors are observed and the bathers adjust modest curtains to their automotive vehicles, their diversions will not be interfered with. "Thousands of people who bathe from autos at Massachusetts beaches can thus continue this practice without fear of the displeasure of the commission which supervises most of the Bay State's larger beaches.

Edward Shank, a New York man, was the first person to run out of a New London city ordinance the forbids bathers to walk through the streets attired in bathing suits. He had disrobed in his automobile and was walking to the beach when arrested. The ordinance is being stubbornly opposed by the merchants and owners of beach concessions.

More than half the population of France was engaged in farming before the war.

Berton Bralley's Daily Poem

WHAT OF IT?

A year ago today I had my troubles,
A year ago today I had my woes,
I was worrying about something I must do without,
(I some other little thing, I suppose;
I was fretting over something must important,
Which I cannot for the life of me recall—
Oh, that trouble that I had was unquestionably sad,
Though I somehow can't remember it at all.

A year ago today I suffered greatly,
A year ago today my heart was sore,
I was wounded, I was hurt—there was someone "did me dirt,"
Though I don't recall who did it, any more;
For it may have been an enemy or comrade
Or a woman—I have totally forgot;
I can't tell you who it was, I can't recollect the cause;
It was all about—I don't remember what!

A year ago today my face was tragic,
A year ago today my life was wrecked,
But exactly how or why I can't tell you if I try,
Though I do my very best to recollect.
So the troubles that at present are annoying
Really needn't make my hair so very gray,
For I'm pretty sure to find that they've wholly slipped my mind
When today is just "a year ago today!"

Let Your Body Take

BY PAUL F. GODLEY.
America's Foremost Radio Authority
Hello London! Give me Dublin.
And if Dublin is willing, it will soon be possible to call up a friend there by wireless telephone.
Announcement has just been made of the installation on Long Island of a high power experimental radio telephone transmitter which, it is expected, will be the forerunner of regular telephone communication between the United States and Europe.
As far back as 1915 the spoken word was thrown across the Atlantic to Paris, across the continent, and over the Pacific to Hawaii. But this was purely an experiment carried on to show what the possibilities were.
Our entrance into the war hindered further work along this line.
During the elapsed time great improvements have been made in the transmitting equipment necessary for this work. The electron tube—vacuum tube—has been developed to the point where one unit will develop as much as 25 horsepower of radio energy.
The present installation contemplates the use of four of these tubes.
At the present time it is possible

WIRE AND RADIO CON-NECTIONS BETWEEN AMERICA

for any telephone subscriber in the land to telephone to Catalina Island, off the coast of California. You merely ask for the toll operator and give your number. When the connection is made you cannot know that the most western 45 miles of your connection is without wires. The gap is bridged by radio.
So within a few months this same will be true of the gap between New York and Europe. Many business men will avail themselves of this service.
Such a link should also have the effect of hastening the perfection of European telephone systems. Telephone service in Europe is notoriously behind the times.

NAVY TO CLOSE YARD IN SOUTH

WASHINGTON, July 11.—A re-survey having demonstrated that the navy possesses more yards than it needs, orders were issued yesterday by Acting Secretary of the Navy, Rosenberg, for the immediate closing down of the navy yard at Charleston, S. C.

The yard and its property will remain under the command of the commandant of the sixth naval district, but only a marine guard will be maintained at the yard.

The order issued directs that as soon as practicable, so far as relates to the repair and supply of vessels of the navy. The buildings, machinery and other property publicly owned will be placed in condition for preservation, and the naval receiving ship at Charleston will remain in commission. But the gunboat "Tulsa," under construction at Charleston, will be completed only to the extent necessary for permitting it to be towed to another navy yard for completion.

The yard at Charleston has been in existence about 30 years and was the particular pet of the late Senator Benjamin R. Tillman of South Carolina, who as a member of the navy committee for some years insisted upon the retention of the yard. Sentiment in the navy has long been adverse to the maintenance of any yard at Charleston. This view, however, was not expressed until the late senator's death, the closing order which is based on considerations of economy.

It is the second yard ordered closed since the Harding administration came into power—both in the south. Some months ago, the New Orleans navy yard was closed.

Another Strike

Continued

to do structural work for the government, but not in railroad shops. The strikers claim that the men were led by a 19-year-old boy, who is receiving $18 a week for his trouble. As soon as the men reached the shops they were informed by the pickets of the nature of the work they would be called upon to perform and upon learning that they were hired as strikebreakers, they left the premises.

It was reported that this matter will be brought to the attention of the state officials by the executive board of the federated crafts.

From now on, the strikers who are doing picket duty at the car shops will be provided with official badges.
This precaution is being taken, it is said, so that if any trouble is caused around the plant by outsiders, the strikers will not be held responsible.
All strikers who are not on picket duty in the vicinity of the plant have been ordered by union officials to keep away from the premises of the railroad company.

Union officials would like to know the meeting nights of all the social clubs of the city and the secretaries of the various organizations are requested to send this information to F. A. Collins, secretary of the Federated Crafts, 11 Fay street.

An official statement authorized by the management of the Boston & Maine states that "passenger and freight service is being maintained at normal. About 450 more men are working today than on Saturday."

a victim of nervousness until she found the right remedy. Describing her experience she says:
"I was so nervous that I couldn't sleep and night after night I was forced to get up, walk around and try to get calm enough to sleep. I couldn't lie on my left side without having another sensation. My lower limbs were so weak that I trembled constantly. I also suffered from terrible headaches. My stomach was upset after eating and my appetite was poor."

"When it seemed as though nothing would help me I heard about Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills and procured a box. There was such immediate relief that I continued the treatment until my nervousness had disappeared.
My appetite improved almost at once and I was able to sleep comfortably and was rested and refreshed in the morning. I feel much stronger now and the headaches are less frequent and much less severe. It gives me pleasure to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

NATIONAL TOURNEY

Golf Players Turn in Lower Scores as Links Get in Condition

SKOKIE COUNTRY CLUB, Glencoe, Ill., July 11.—(By the Associated Press.) High scores prevailed among the players in today's qualifying round of the national open golf tournament to finish nine holes, when the moisture dried up and the cards began to show lower totals.

The first man to shoot par on the first nine was George M. Christ, of Rochester, N. Y., with a 34.
Scores for the first nine holes: Chas.
Hildendorf, Detroit, 36; Gene Saracen, Pittsburgh, 36; John G. Anderson, Siwanoy, 38; Frank A. Godchaux, Mt. Vernon, 38; Fred Baron, Montclair Heights, 38.

Short before noon a storm suddenly swept up from the west and the players soon were shooting in a cloudburst which made it impossible to follow the flight of the ball.

The cloudburst lasted about 15 minutes, but there was still a light drizzle for some time.

TAKES INSPECTION TOUR BY SEAPLANE

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Acting Secretary of the Navy, Clegg, and Rosenberg will leave Washington this afternoon for an inspection tour of the north Atlantic coast naval training stations and bases, using a naval seaplane for transportation. He will travel by railway to Atlantic City from which he will start his seaplane on Thursday morning, for New London and other New England coast points.

At Atlantic City, Mr. Roosevelt will be met by two F-5-L seaplanes, the large type of naval scouting machines which have been detailed from the Atlantic fleet air squadron to carry the acting secretary and his naval aide, Lieutenant Commander L. P.
Warren. After inspecting the submarine base at New London, the party will go the next day to Newport, where the training station and other naval activities will be visited. The naval aviation college will be visited by Mr. Roosevelt Saturday morning.
From Newport the return will be made by naval airplane to New York city.

"The use of navy airplanes," said Mr. Roosevelt today, "enables me to inspect naval personnel and the naval units and activities which are operating at considerable distance from Washington with the minimum absence of time from duties at the capital. Navy seaplanes are finding increasing uses for speeding up the work of the navy department in the transmission of official business and the transportation of personnel on urgent duty."

Mother, Has Your Child These Symptoms?

Mothers, watch children for symptoms of internal disorders. Look at your child NOW! Is his breath offensive and tongue coated? Does he grind his teeth or start in his sleep?
Is his appetite changeable? Has he occasional griping pains? Is he constipated?

These are some symptoms of worms.
Great distress often results from these parasites. Relieve him quickly with Dr. True's Elixir. The True Family

your nerves are growing more re-

Tampico Reports Exaggerated

MEXICO CITY, July 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Despatches to the American state department from the Tampico oil region telling of renewed activities by the Bandit Gorozave are without confirmation here.
Instead, semi-official statements are that rebel activities have been exaggerated and that the entire district is virtually tranquil. Local representatives of oil companies are inclined to believe the situation is not so peaceful as the government insists, although they lack direct word from Tampico.

HIS HUMAN ANTENNA CHAIN. BELOW, ANTENNA AROUND OP-ERATOR'S BODY.

The latest in aeriels is the human body!
This new form of antenna was devised by one of the inventors in Marconi's floating radio "laboratory," the "Electra." With a sensitive amplifier, it could receive messages from ships at sea.
A few turns of wire around the operator's body and the human aerial does the rest.
But an enterprising New Yorker has gone this British expert one better.
He doesn't use any wire!
From his office across the river,

Rudolph Wolf listens in on the broadcasting from Newark, N. J., by just touching the receiving set!
By contact with the aerial, his body post, Wolf makes his body act as the antenna. If this sound isn't loud enough, he calls his assistants and they stand with their arms raised, forming a human antenna chain!
The longer the chain, says Wolf, the better the reception.
For radio experimenting, this form of antenna is worth a try. But for steady reception, stick to the loop or wire aeriels.
They are more reliable—as antennae—than the human body.

LOWELL BOY SUCCESSFUL

William B. Martin is Making Rapid Progress in the Musical World

sion in Paris that this exceptional invitation has been offered him. When asked if the opportunity to study music in America was as good as it was in France, he said that just as much could be learned here but that environment made a great difference. Mr. Martin has been singing operas written in French and in order to master the fine points of that language, he lived with a French family and never spoke a word of English, except when he met some American friends or tourists. After the glee club tour was ended Mr. Martin stayed in Paris and studied under M. Sujol, one of the most noted voice teachers of Paris. Under his tutelage he advanced rapidly and his wonderful voice gained many honors for him. Mr. Martin will return to Paris the first of October and will resume his studies until next Christmas time. He expects to stay in Paris a year or two and then he intends to go to Italy and study there. He says that he will live with an Italian family as it enables one to learn the language more quickly and also to know the intricacies of it.

There is great opposition to American musical students in France because the French people do not believe that the Americans are a musical race, he said. They consider the Americans superficial, and that the only music they have is jazz. It was to combat this feeling that the trip of the Harvard Glee club was arranged and Mr. Martin says it has had a good effect on the French people. He also said that when an American undertakes to sing French opera the French say that it can't be done. First they say an American has no appreciation of real music, then they say that he can't possibly master the intricacies of the French language, and finally that it is impossible for him to get the feel of the music. Mr. Martin is to sing at the Paris opera shows that he has clearly overcome all the objections that the French people had to offer, and has convinced them that there is one American who can do all the things they said he could not.

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED TO THE MAN-IN-THE-MOON

THERE WAS A FUNNY LOOKING HOUSE OF OLD BOARDS.

Now, of course, my dears, you'll wonder where on earth Mr. Peerbabout was after he got pushed off the Moon.

Well, that's where he was—on earth. Not quite on it either, for after turning empty-steer somersaults, the poor soul fell plump into the apple-tree in Old Orchard.

But by the time Nancy and Nick had reached the earth and began to search for him he had gone again. So no wonder the people of Bright Meadowland and Whispering Forest and Rimple Creek and even Old Orchard itself hadn't seen him.

There the Moon-Man landed in the top branches of the apple-tree he was so shaken up and so breathless with his great fall he didn't move for a minute.

Then he sat up and rubbed his eyes, and felt over his bald head for bumps and looked to see if his clothes were torn. Then he had time to look about and see what sort of place he had landed in.

There in the tree-top was a funny little house of old boards and in the doorway stood a queer little fellow with enormous iron-boots, and a spotted hanky on his head.

"Howdy," said the little fellow, "where did you blow from?"

"Blow!" cried Peerbabout indignantly. "What do you think I am—a daindellon? Or a soap-bubble? I'm Mr. Peerbabout from the Moon."

"Oh, then," said the other, "you're like the poem, aren't you—the one that says the Man-in-the-Moon came tumbling down and asked the way to Norwich."

"Well, sir, I'm sorry. I don't know where Norwich is. My name's Busskins and I run this little elevator here up into the sky and back. I'm waiting for a passenger."

"Well, I guess I'm it," said Mr. Peerbabout. "I don't wish to go to Norwich. I want to go back to the Moon."

Frank Crowley, Peter Flood, Thomas Hoark, Stephen Howard, E. Roddy and John O'Loughlin. An endurance "buck and wing" contest was won by Mr. Leo Connors. The party concluded with everybody wishing the best of luck to Mr. Horan in his new field of labor.

Daniel Webster's Hat

NE of Daniel Webster's famous retorts was to a young man when their hats got mixed.

"Why, Mr. Webster," said he, "our heads are just the same size."

"On the outside, perhaps," replied Webster.

If there had been 10,000,000 automobiles in Webster's day this might have hit off the feeling about tires as well.

To understand the tire situation today, go back to 1918, 1919 and 1920, when tire makers were jumping to catch up with the demand. In 1921 they more than caught up.

And in 1922, every car-owner knows where he can get plenty of tires with plenty of big discounts. Plenty of bargains with ingenious sales-arguments.

A vast quantity of merchandise he knows little or nothing about.

The quantity problem is history.

It is all this quantity of tires—and their wide variance in value that is making most car-owners determined to get quality.

Hundreds of thousands of car-owners rode on Royal Cords last year.

The unobserving man might say that this was reaching the limit of the quality idea.

Yet, in January, February, March, April and May, 1922, the sales of U.S. Royal Cords through dealers more than doubled over the same period of 1921. A new high record for Royal Cords.

Spontaneous buying through dealers.

You have, perhaps, overheard some other tire being sold for "as good as a Royal."

At a time like this remember what Daniel Webster said.

Current prices on United States Passenger Car Tires and Tubes are not subject to Federal Excise Tax, the tax having been included.

Hayes to Consider Most Important Question Relative to Volstead Act

BOSTON, July 10.—The question whether prohibition enforcement agents have been acting illegally in destroying stills, mash and moonshine without court sanction, was taken under advisement today by United States Commissioner Hayes. Daniel A. Shea, former assistant federal district attorney, as counsel for several defendants charged with manufacture of liquor asserted that by section 25 of the Volstead act, all property seized by prohibition agents must be brought before the court for disposition. He contended that the court must give its sanction before physical property seized in raids could be destroyed. Commissioner Hayes said the question was the most important that has been raised since enforcement began. "If Shea's contention is right," he continued, "the methods must be radically changed."

REFUSED HIM RESCUE BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

Member of Boston Schooner Claims British Captain Left Him Afloat

BOSTON, July 10.—Edward Hines, a member of the crew of the fishing schooner Henrietta, who was lost in a fog a week ago, while hauling trawls in South channel, 90 miles off Nantucket, arrived in Boston today aboard the schooner Josephine De Costa. Hines, a brother of the Henrietta's master, said that the captain of a British liner sailing between Boston and an English port, refused to pick him up after he had been afloat in his dory for three days. He refused to give the name of the ship. He was so weak from exhaustion that he did not remember the name of the steamer that rescued him. Hines said he signalled the British vessel and that it came almost alongside. The captain, he said, told him that his own schooner was but a short distance away and to row to it. This was at 2 p. m., on Wednesday, Hines says, and he was picked up on Thursday by the steamer and transferred to the De Costa on Friday. Hines was a member of the crew of the fishing schooner Esperanto, which won the fisherman's trophy when that vessel was wrecked off Sable Island about a year ago, and about four years ago was adrift in an open boat on the Atlantic for seven days.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—This year's total wheat crop was forecast at 217,000,000 bushels and the corn crop at 2,360,000,000 bushels by the department of agriculture, in its July crop report issued today.

BIDDEFORD, Me., July 10.—Arthur Letarte, 23, of Westbrook, died at a hospital here today of injuries received shortly after midnight when he drove his automobile into a tree at a sharp turn at Old Orchard. David Lampron was seriously injured and five other Westbrook young men were badly shaken up.

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—(By the Associated Press) Discontinuance of 50 local and mixed passenger and freight trains on the Missouri Pacific system was announced here today. The announcement stated the action was taken because of the increase in coal prices due to the miners' strike. The Wabash announced it probably would continue a number of locals for the same reason. The Missouri Kansas & Texas discontinued 42 locals Saturday because of the shopmen's strike.

Liquor Question To Be On Ballot

BOSTON, July 11.—A petition for a referendum next fall on the state liquor enforcement act has obtained the required number of signatures to insure it a place on the ballot and will soon be filed at the state house, the Constitutional Liberty league announced today. The act, passed by the last legislature, provides for enforcement of the Volstead act through the police. The measure is opposed by the league. Louis A. Coolidge, a director of the organization said: "The bill which has passed the state legislature, will encourage graft in the police force of every city and town in the state. Every bootlegger wants to see this law on the statute books."

Nearly 500 delegates of both organizations were present.

way a block north of Seminary avenue, which bounds the northern side of the shops. The sentries responded with no indication that anyone was hurt.

At 2:45 Major L. W. Roszell received a report that four men had slipped past the sentry line into the shops on a spying expedition and had made their escape. Sentries were doubled and a second machine gun company called out to reinforce the one on duty.

Ninety-four non-union workmen arrived this morning. They were searched by the troops and a gun was found sticking out of one man's sock. It was confiscated.

Col. Culbertson has issued orders that all workmen going into the shops be searched for weapons and liquor. "If there is any fighting to be done, we will do it," the colonel said.

Crowds of strikers and strike sympathizers began crowding around the shop this morning and at 10 o'clock orders were issued to set up machine guns covering every entrance.

Guards Attacked

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 11.—Two Chicago & Northwestern railroad guards were attacked by a band of 12 men armed with stones and clubs, early this morning, according to George Lawrence, chief of the North-western's special police. Disorders Increase CHICAGO, July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Increasing disorders, militancy not to weaken in the face of railroad ultimatum.

Strike Sanctioned

CINCINNATI, July 11.—A strike of railway clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees on the Norfolk & Western railroad has been sanctioned by the grand president, E. H. Fitzgerald, according to I. D. Mumby, assistant to Fitzgerald at the headquarters of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks here today.

Mumby stated that sanction of strike authorized about 1400 members of the Brotherhood of the Norfolk & Western to leave work at 10 a. m. today. The Norfolk & Western runs from Norfolk, Va., to Cincinnati, and Columbus, and the strike calls out the railway clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees.

Mumby also stated that headquarters of the Brotherhood has been advised that the executive board of the Brotherhood on the Chesapeake & Ohio system was to present resolutions to the officials of the road at Richmond, Va., today, protesting against a cut in wages and demanding full time vacations without involving extra hours of work. The Brotherhood has 2200 members on that system, it was stated.

Call Meetings

NEW YORK, July 11.—Calls for mass meetings of striking railroad shop crafts strikers came today as an answer to the letting of equipment repair work to outside shops in the metropolitan district.

The testing of the strikers in Jersey City, after the announcement of the Erie railroad that it had signed a contract for the rebuilding of 150 locomotives at Paterson, N. J., was shown in further desertion of workers to the ranks of the strikers, according to union leaders.

Both sides of the wage controversy claimed gains as the eleventh day of the walkout began. A new feature of the picket line was the appearance of striking women employees at the Sunnyside yards.

Not to Strike

CHICAGO, July 11.—The brotherhood of signalmen will not strike for the present, at least, according to a statement issued this morning by D. W. Helt, president of the organization. The decision was arrived at after a conference between the executive board of the union and the railroad labor board.

Mr. Helt's statement said that the signalmen would take up all questions of disagreement with the roads separately and in case an understanding could not be arrived at, the matter would be taken up again with the United States railroad labor board.

MAN THOUGHT DEAD IS FOUND ALIVE

ALEXANDRIA, N. H., July 11.—John Tilley of this town and Cambridge, Mass., was found alive at Holderness yesterday, after a country-wide search was made for his body.

He telephoned to the authorities of this town, stating that he didn't know until last night that there was any alarm because of his absence, nor did he know that he was thought to be dead, a victim of assaults with bats and shotgun.

Tilley disappeared on the night of the Fourth after he was beaten by Walter Fletcher, a war veteran, who was a squatter on Tilley's farm. His own story of his disappearance, related to Attorney H. S. Holden, who prosecuted his assailant in behalf of the town officers and citizens of Alexandria, showed the privations he suffered as he sought to escape further punishment at the hands of the infuriated Fletcher, who is now held in the Grafton county jail at Woodville under prohibitive bail of $5000.

Ward's Counsel Attacks State Prosecutor

Another Strike at Billerica Car Shops—Strikebreakers Refuse to Work Overtime

There is another strike at the Boston & Maine carshops in Billerica, according to the members of the federated units, who left their work a week ago last Saturday as a protest against a wage reduction announced by the federal railroad labor board, and against certain working conditions in the shops. The second strike occurred yesterday afternoon, when about 200 strike breakers are alleged to have left their work after refusing to do overtime work.

According to the story given at strike headquarters this morning the men were "imported" from Boston yesterday morning and after registering their names at the main office of the shops, were put to work in the various departments of the plant. Late yesterday afternoon, so it is claimed, the men were given orders to work until five o'clock, but they refused to work on the ground that they would not work more than eight hours a day and that their time started the minute they left Boston. The story goes that after considerable argument the company officials finally called for a special train and the strikers were sent back to Boston.

The strikers also reported that nine strikebreakers were induced to leave their work yesterday afternoon. These men, it was said, were sent to Billerica by a construction company of Boston with the understanding that they were

No Action Taken on Blazon's Petition for Writ of Mandamus—Nesmith Fund Case Reserved for Full Bench by Agreement

Two separate and distinct actions against the city of Lowell were heard this forenoon in the supreme judicial court at Boston, before Justice Crosby. A third case, brought by members of the Lowell Automobile Dealers' association seeking an injunction to restrain the city from paying for the mayor's Packard touring car and for two Packard trucks purchased for the street department, had not been called at 1 o'clock, when court adjourned.

When the case is reached a continuance is probable for the reason that City Solicitor Thorne claims that at least five of the members of the automobile association whose names appear on the bill of complaint, are not in sympathy with the action and allege that their names have been used without authorization or knowledge. The automobile dealers were represented by James H. Gilbride.

The first of the Lowell cases heard was the petition for a writ of mandamus brought by Albert J. Blazon to compel city officials to recognize him as a member of the board of assess-sors, despite the election of Wilfrid J. Aikin to succeed him.

Judge Crosby heard the case reviewed briefly but decided more facts and ordered a continuance for one week, during which time opposing counsel shall file an agreed statement covering the entire matter.

Albert S. Howard appeared for Mr. Blazon and City Solicitor Edward J. Thorne for Mr. Aikin.

The Nesmith fund case involving $35,000 which the trustees seek to have returned to them or have the city rehabilitate as a trust fund, was set for preliminary hearing, this was reserved for the full bench of the court by agreement. Fisher Nesmith appeared for his father, Thomas Nesmith, and Arthur C. Spalding for Austin K. Chadwick and George R. Chandler, trustees of the fund.

Inasmuch as the case is in the form of a bill of information to enforce a public charity, the attorney general of the commonwealth was represented as a nominal plaintiff by Charles T. Cabot, assistant attorney general.

WILL ORGANIZE PLAYGROUND LEAGUE

Organization of the annual playground league will take place at a meeting of all the team captains in a day or two. Each team will play three games a week and the schedule will be so arranged that each will have three home games in two weeks. This is the playgrounds' big league. After looking the boys over in regard to size, etc., it seems to the supervisors that the following locations warrant teams in this league: Aikin street, Butler school, Greenhale school, Morey school, North common, South common, Shedd park and Washington park, making eight teams in all.

Another league for inter-sectional games, will be formed of boys not over 12 years of age. The plan is to divide the playgrounds into four sections, the winner in each section to play other winners until the championship is established. The young men will not have so far to travel in this way. The groups are as follows:

Group A—Varnum, Lakeview avenue, Greenhale.
Group B—Aikin, Moody, North common.
Group C—Morey, Washington, South common.
Group D—Moody, Butler, Fayette Shedd park.

Rainie to officers of the Beaver Meadow Golf club, warning them that further indulgence in it will be followed by prosecutions. A campaign against Sunday pastimes here has been precipitated by action against local baseball players who have staged games on the first day of the week.

Plum Island Life-savers Draw Guns in Making Hold-up

Two Hundred and Fifty Cases of Gin Found in Hold of Schooner

NEWBURYPORT, July 11.—Captain Burnham and the life-saving crew of the Plum Island station today captured the Ring's Island fishing power schooner Lorena, after a spectacular holdup on the ocean during which Burnham and his men were forced to draw their guns before compelling a surrender of the schooner's crew. Two hundred cases of whiskey and 50 cases of gin were found in the hold of the schooner, Capt. Burnham stated.

Capt. George Rich, of Salisbury and the crew of the schooner were arrested and locked up in the police station of this city.

A strange craft resembling a naval submarine is said to have transferred the cargo of liquor to the schooner early today, according to a member of the coast guard crew who witnessed the movements of the mystery ship which disappeared at sea.

They were arrested as they were about to leave the house in an automobile.

WARD'S COUNSEL MAKES CHARGES

Former Supreme Court Justice Attacks Dist. Atty. Weeks Regarding Hearing

Says State Never Brought Out Facts Relative to Slain Man's Record

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 11.—Proceedings of the grand jury which indicted Walter S. Ward, wealthy banker's son, for the first degree murder of Clarence Peters, ex-sailor, were vigorously attacked today by former Supreme Court Justice Isaac N. Willis, of Ward's counsel, when a motion for dismissal of the indictment came up for hearing before Supreme Court Justice Seeger.

Mr. Willis charged that District Attorney Weeks had improperly conducted the grand jury hearing, and specifically, had withheld from the grand jury knowledge of Peters' character and reputation.

"I charge that he suppressed the facts that this man Peters was a desperado and a thug," Judge Mills declared. "Never since the day of the Spanish Inquisition has a greater outrage been perpetrated than was perpetrated in the grand jury room by the examination of witnesses by the enemy of the defendant."

URGENT EVIDENCE

Mr. Willis declared that even with the mass of "illegitimate" evidence which had been laid before the jury, that body had not had facts enough before it to warrant finding of a first degree indictment. Eliminating the alleged incompetent evidence, he declared the jury had practically nothing on which to base its charge.

He then urged the court if it declined to free Ward entirely, that it at least hold the evidence warranted nothing more than a manslaughter indictment and that it admit Ward to bail pending a trial on that charge. Ward, who was present in court, appeared to have suffered from his confinement in the Westchester county jail. His clothing hung loosely on his frame and his face was pale and haggard.

Mrs. Ward, who has stood firmly by her husband since the slaying, was a courtroom spectator.

Mr. Willis made her presence the basis for an attack on Auckland Coroner, foreman of the grand jury, who is alleged by the defense to have influenced the proceedings against Ward out of political spite. Coroner was a candidate for the position of police commissioner of New Rochelle, to which Ward was appointed.

Pointing dramatically to Ward, Mr. Willis said: "Does he look like a cold blooded murderer—a desperado?"

Then, pointing to Mrs. Ward, he continued: "Does she look like a woman, as the black heart of the foreman of the grand jury tried to show her? There she sits, meek and pure."

HUB POLICE PULL GUNS TO CHASE SUSPECTS

BOSTON, July 11.—Policemen with drawn revolvers rushed to a large jewelry house at the corner of Tremont and West streets, early today, attracted by the screams of a woman who had noticed four men on the fire escapes in the rear of the building. The men escaped.

William Anderson, store watchman on hearing the woman's cry, said he rushed to the window in time to see the men hurrying away. He telephoned police headquarters immediately and all available officers were dispatched to the vicinity.

Government's Attempt to Maintain Trains Has Not Checked Strikers' Action

Telling of Interrupted Mail Service—Shots Fired in Illinois Towns—Postal Department Not to Recommend Drastic Action Until Full Reports Are Made

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The determination of the federal government to maintain transportation of mails and interstate commerce during the railway strikers' strike failed to check today the stream of reports to the postoffice department of interference by strikers with mail trains.

S. H. Crisler, superintendent of railway mail service at St. Louis, reported in telegrams to Postmaster General Work that 3000 miles of railway mail service on the Wabash Railway were not being operated. Mr. Crisler added that the fuel situation was serious.

The St. Louis and San Francisco Railway Co. notified the department today that it had no intention of withdrawing mail trains.

No further trouble was reported to the department from Springfield and other points in Missouri, where strikers were alleged yesterday to have interfered with the movement of mail matter and the situation at Kansas City was reported today to be improved.

Work Receives Message
Postmaster General Work received from the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. a telegram today stating that the company was obliged to suspend the operation of its train No. 48 from Florida, Ill., to Shawneetown, Ill., yesterday morning and on that account was unable to perform United States mail service between these points because of action of strikers who would not permit railroad employees to make up trains.

The postmaster general said he had instructed the superintendent of the railway mail service here in Washington to have divisional inspectors sent to all points where railroads had reported strike disorders to make reports to Washington at once. In many instances, it was said, postal inspectors had failed to verify reports sent to the department by railway officials.

The postoffice department will not, it was said, recommend drastic action by federal or state forces at any point until inspectors have made certain of the facts as reported.

INCREASE SHOWN BY DANVERS' HOSPITAL

BOSTON, July 11.—Admission to the Danvers state hospital last year showed a "remarkable increase" in patients suffering from the mental disorders that result from alcoholism, John B. MacDonald, superintendent of the institution, said in his annual report made public today.

Most of the alcoholic patients admitted that "intoxication of the home brewed variety were easily procurable in their localities," Superintendent MacDonald reported.

VACATION CLASSES OPEN

Over 200 Pupils Enroll for Review Work at the Green School

Superintendent of Schools Hugh J. Molloy is very enthusiastic regarding the opening yesterday at the Green school of the vacation classes, at which more than 200 pupils enrolled for review work which is expected to assist them in entering the 7th, 8th and 9th grades in September.

Superintendent Molloy says that the opening was most encouraging. It was impossible in advance to form any estimate as to the number of boys and girls who would come. More than 400 letters were sent to parents of children, urging them to take advantage of the opportunity. The response was the enrollment of more than 200 children. They have been arranged in quite clearly defined grades, and are entering review work for the purpose of entering the upper grammar grades, as stated above. Stress will be laid on grammar, arithmetic and spelling. All of the teachers who have been assigned are most capable in this line of work.

The hours during which this school is in session are from 9 to 11:30 o'clock. As the cost for six teachers for 30 days amounts to but $700 or thereabouts, the work is of an inexpensive nature, and it is the superintendent's opinion that if the city could spend $10,000, one per cent of its annual school expenditure, on summer playgrounds and vacation class a great number of new and beneficial activities could be carried out.

BIG SLUMP IN INCOME TAX FOR LOWELL

Notification has been transmitted to the local board of assessors by the state tax department that this year's returns from income taxes for Lowell is $87,455.25. This shows a decrease of $19,746.62 from last year's tax, which amounted to $107,201.87. These figures represent the difference in Lowell's share of the income tax for the years 1920 and 1921.

This will permit the assessors to go ahead with their work on the new tax rate, as this practically completes their figures.

A CONVENTION THAT FIZZLED

Not so many freight cars running these days on account of the rail workers' strike. Be that as it may, the convention of the "Migratory, Casual and Unemployed Workers of America" at Buffalo wasn't a big success. Among those present were (left to right) Charles Kraus, James Eads Howe, "millionaire hobo," Mrs. Inez E. Newton of Oklahoma, Jim Sullivan and Pat Collins.

PLEASANT OUTING
The outing for the members of Camp Ferragut auxiliary, S.V.A., 47, which was held recently at the camp of the president, Radio Bayway, in Tyngsboro, was a big success. There was a large attendance and the program was most enjoyable. In the course of the day sports were carried out and games were played. At noon dinner was served. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Staples, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Parker for the auxiliary and Messrs. Bartlett, Fullerton and Adams for the camp.

EVERETT TRUE

POLICE HAVE PROBLEM IN JACKIE

PITTSFIELD, July 11.—The police of Great Barrington have a boy mystery on their hands in Jackie Leon Vetter, 11, who says he came east from Los Angeles, Cal. Vetter has no relatives living and came to the Berkshire from Boston a few days ago to obtain a job, according to his story. He was turned over to Chief of Police Oshman by the proprietor of the Elmhurst hotel, where he insisted on getting a snap-shot of every guest.

He speaks French, German, Spanish and reads Latin. No charge has been brought against him, and he has been placed in the care of probation officer J. W. Cropper while his case is being investigated.

He was allowed to go to Lake Buol yesterday, and when he returned in the evening he had a bathing suit, valued at $5, under his arm. Later in the evening, while walking with officer Cropper, a coin dropped out of his pocket and when he stopped to pick it up he dropped a small package which contained 22 25-cent pieces.

HAREM ATTENDANTS GO OUT ON STRIKE

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 11. (By the Associated Press.)—Constantinople's harem attendants have gone on strike for more money and shorter hours. Many of the capital's nast harem have been left unguarded and their owners are trying distractedly to find suitable substitutes for the strikers. Numbers of Russian refugees have volunteered their services, but it was found they were not fitted for the jobs. "The strikers insist that 'the 24 hour day' and the unending vigil they are required to keep on the women of the harem justify better remuneration. Many of them protest that their wages have not been paid for more than a year, and in several instances they have appealed to the American committee on relief in the east for aid. The fact is that their masters, who in most cases are officials or employees of the government have not drawn any salaries for months.

DIST. ATTY. INVESTIGATES PRICE OF MILK

BOSTON, July 11.—Dist. Atty. Thos. C. O'Brien today began a preliminary investigation into the prices of milk charged in this city. He announced that certain facts relative to milk distribution and prices here compelled him to give the matter his immediate official attention to determine whether or not the laws of the commonwealth are being violated. Following the completion of conferences in his office the district attorney said that if it seemed proper, he would present his findings to the grand jury.

The price of milk was advanced one cent recently, making the price 13½ cents to the consumer.

TROLLEY IN DIVE MISSES EMBANKMENT

WHITINSVILLE, July 11.—A Rockdale extra trolley car of the Worcester Consolidated Street railway left the rails on Church st., near Granite street, yesterday, and although it plunged almost feet before crashing into a tree and coming to a stop with the rear trucks hanging over a 10-foot embankment, none of the passengers received any serious injuries.

The extra was making its regular trip from Rockdale with machine shop employees and had completed about half the distance from Plummers corner to Whitinsville when the accident happened.

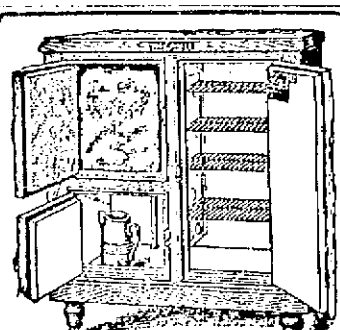

The rear trucks were pushed at right angle to the body of the car. The rear vestibule was completely smashed. Despite flying glass and splinters of wood, none of the passengers was hurt. The car was crowded at the time.

FRATERNAL NEWS

President M. J. Monahan occupied the chair at last evening's regular meeting of Division 8, A.O.H., which was held in Hibernian hall, Middle street. Two new members were initiated and four applications for membership were received. Committee reports were submitted and it was voted to request the central council to make arrangements for an excursion to Revere in the near future. At the close of the meeting Capt. F. J. Kleros gave an interesting talk on the good and welfare of the order.

VOCATIONAL BIBLE SCHOOL

Sixty-two children were enrolled in the three different departments of the vocational bible school yesterday. This school is conducted in connection with the Syrian mission, the first hour being devoted to bible, music and brief talks on patriotism and health. The school is divided into three classes during the second hour, the junior, primary and kindergarten. At 10 o'clock, each child goes through a series of setting up exercises and then marches to the kitchen, where milk and crackers are served to each individual. Work is again resumed with the primary girls making doll hats and the boys making mats and small hammocks. The girls also weave, sew and make baskets. On Tuesday and Friday, swimming classes are held at the Y.M.C.A.

EXPRESSMAN IS ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

BOSTON, July 11.—Patrick Lynch, aged 35, of 39 Allen street, West End, employed by the American Express company at the North station, was accidentally shot and killed about 9:30 last night when a repeating rifle of the type used by express messengers exploded. The bullet struck Lynch in the head and his death occurred at the Relief hospital a few minutes after his arrival there. Lynch was going down a platform to meet the Troy express, which is due at the North station at 9:30, day. Light saving time. With him on the truck was Stephen Fleming, a freight handler, whose home is at 953 Washington street, Brookline. The rifle had been placed on the truck by Thomas Mortimer, of 39 Brent street, Dorchester, according to the police. Mortimer is employed as a messenger by the express company. He was not on the truck. On the way to the train the rifle was in some manner moved, resulting in the pulling of the trigger. It is believed the trigger caught on a bolt on the truck and a slight jar as the truck moved along the platform caused the explosion. The accident happened just before the passengers alighted from the train and while it caused considerable excitement among those in the vicinity few of the passengers realized what had occurred.

Opposed to Discussion

government agree to a meeting of the supreme council.

Dr. Fischer told the commission that Germany had succeeded in getting together sufficient foreign exchange to meet the payment of 50,000,000 gold marks due July 15, but whether this payment will be exacted has not yet been decided.

Thought Probable

A moratorium on Germany's cash payments for the remainder of this year was thought in circles close to the reparations commission to be quite probable as a result of a conference this forenoon between Dr. Fischer, chairman of the German war debts commission, and all the members of the commission, in a hurriedly called informal meeting. Roland W. Boyden, the United States representative with the commission took part in the conference.

Dr. Fischer told the commission the Germans would present a formal request for a moratorium at a meeting called by the commission for tomorrow.

This request, it was indicated in commission circles, will likely be acted upon by the commission without waiting to refer the matter to the various governments.

The letter asking for the moratorium is expected to suggest the cancellation of all the remaining payments this year, leaving the matter of a moratorium thereafter open for the time being. Under this arrangement the question of the further moratorium would be decided later upon fuller consideration and in view of what may happen in Germany in the next few weeks.

It is understood that the majority of the commission sees no other way out of the present crisis, and is therefore prepared to vote a temporary moratorium, particularly because there is general realization that no loan to Germany is immediately possible and that relief for present conditions must come quickly.

Keeping in Touch

tion concerning Germany's financial position and the reparations question.

Premier Poincare is said to plan coming to London shortly for a conference with Premier Lloyd George. The date of his arrival, however, will not be fixed until the report of the allied committee on guarantees now sitting in Berlin is considered. The report is expected some time this week.

The whole international financial situation came before the British cabinet at a meeting today, especially in its relation to the collapse of the German mark. Among the data available to the ministers were special despatches from the British ambassador.

The Times today began a series of special articles discussing "the economic morass in which the world is floundering," and aiming to point the road to recovery. The writer says the latest collapse of the mark merely adds an alarming symptom to the other symptoms long noticeable.

"Great Britain alone holds the key to the whole position," he declares. "The only gateway to the path to safety is through firm, courageous treatment of the reparations problem."

In order to unlock the gate, the question of the British war indebtedness to the United States must first be settled.

Twelve Best Short Movies of First Half of 1922

BY JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, July 11.—Listing the 12 best feature pictures for the first six months of 1922 is insufficient proof of the advance of film production.

Many a movie program has been saved from utter banality by a short subject accompanying the feature picture. Indeed, many of the short subjects are better from every point of analysis than many of the feature pictures.

And again, many of the short subjects are informative as well as entertaining. The intelligence of the masses has undoubtedly been elevated by such supplementary features as the Urban Movie Chats, the various news reels, the Pathe Review, the "Great American Authors" series and the va-

In presenting my selections of the best 12 short subjects for the first six months of 1922 I am not so sure of doing justice as I was in selecting the 12 best feature plays. That, because of the wide variety and great number of such films and the impracticability of previewing all of them.

Of the hundreds of such films reviewed in the last six months I believe the best to be the following:

"And Women Must Weep."
"Ballad of Fisher's Boarding House."
"Such Is Life in Volendam."
"Cold Feet."
"Pay Day."
"Poor Boy."
"Supply and Demand."
"Step This Way."

"The Dying Detective."
"The Leather Pushers."
"Peggy Bohave."
"Mountain Laurel."

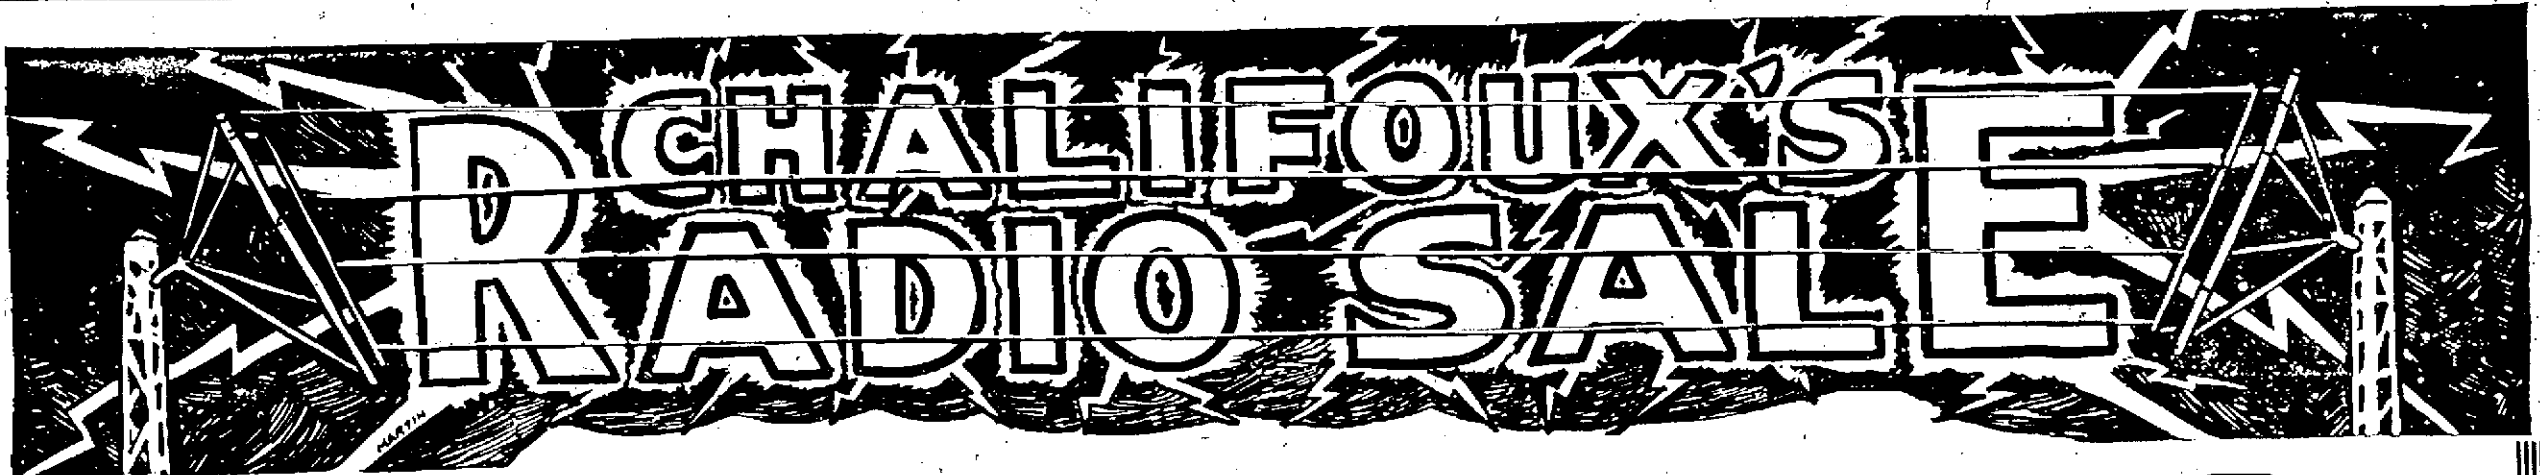

Robert C. Bruce interwove the dramatic elements of the sea with human tragedy in "And Women Must Weep" with such finesse that both were of equal importance. The artistry of this film is of highest degree, then 90 per cent of the feature films. It is one of his effective series called "Wilderness Tales."

"Such Is Life in Volendam" is one of the "Travelogue" series in which Hy Mayer combines photography with left pen and ink work and comedy with informative material.

"The Dying Detective" is one of the two-reel Sherlock Holmes series which, with such short dramas as "The Ballad of Fisher's Boarding House," prove that two reels containing no bunk can be as entertaining as a feature picture containing three reels of bunk.

The one particular in which the movies have not improved is in

ACCIDENTAL DROWNING

Report Expected to Close Hotchkiss Case Unless

FAIRFIELD, Conn., July 11.—The opinion of Medical Examiner Dr. W. H. Donaldson that Jane Richmond Borden Hotchkiss, wife of Edward S. Hotchkiss of Bridgeport, met death by accidental drowning at Fairfield Beach, yesterday, is expected to close the case if Coroner John J. Phelan should deem an inquest unnecessary. A note, it appears, was found requesting that the watch of Mrs. Hotchkiss be turned over to a relative. This was in a pocketbook which the owner of the bathing suit, one of which had been hired by Mrs. Hotchkiss, turned over to Dr. Donaldson.

Mrs. Hotchkiss, who was 35 years of age, arrived at Fairfield Beach alone in a taxicab, and went immediately to a bathing pavilion, where she rented a bathing suit. She went into the water and less than a half-hour later her body was discovered floating with the tide.

Mr. Hotchkiss was said to be prostrated. He was formerly head of the Hotchkiss Machine Gun Co. of Bridgeport, and married Miss Borden on March 1 in Philadelphia.

GIRL AVENGES FATHER'S DEATH

MEXICO CITY, July 11 (By the Associated Press).—Maria del Pilar Moreno, a 15-year-old girl, yesterday afternoon avenged the death of her father, Jesse Z. Moreno, editor of El Herald de Mexico, who was shot and killed last May by Deputy Francisco Tejada Llorca after a quarrel.

Maria awaited before Tejada Llorca's home and as he stepped from the doorway fired four times at a ten-foot distance. All the shots had effect and death was instantaneous.

The child, who since her father's death, has been almost deranged with grief, calmly surrendered to the police. She expressed no regrets, says she swore vengeance over her father's body, and now that his death had been avenged, she was prepared to pay the penalty.

Execution was caused in Mexico City by the killing of Editor Moreno, by Deputy Tejada Llorca, which took place at the entrance in the interior department building. The motive for the killing was believed to have been editor's attacks in the columns of his newspaper on what he called political evils.

Deputy Llorca was an uncle of Adalberto Tejada, governor of Vera Cruz, and it was said that his resentment was directed more against Moreno's criticism of the state government at Vera Cruz than against any personal attacks.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"Reported Missing" with Owen Moore, and "Outside the Door" with Edith Hallor are the feature attractions at the Strand, the first three days of the week. Both pictures could be featured separately on any program and be acclaimed successful, but the Strand policy of double features for patrons is again being demonstrated.

This latest and greatest success of the popular Owen Moore provides some of the most amusing and yet thrilling scenes ever depicted on the cinema. The story deals with Richard Boyd (Moore) who inherits the fortune of his father, which has an option on a grand fleet of ships being sought by a rival oriental ship-ping magnate, Boyd is indifferent and care not whether the rival succeeds in his plans or not. All he wants is a good time. Pauline Dunn, however, is extremely interested in Boyd's welfare and determines to make him see sense down to business. She pleads with him to save the ships for America. The patriotic spirit then engulfs the hero and he is no longer the playboy once he gets started. The oriental becomes enraged and determines to kidnap Boyd, and in order to do this he is compelled to kidnap the girl also. They are unceremoniously put aboard a boat which is shipwrecked during a heavy storm. Both are stranded on an island and later found by the oriental who takes them to his native land. Here is where the real action begins, but it must be seen to be appreciated.

The other picture starring Miss Hallor is equally as good as "Reported Missing." Miss Hallor portrays the role of Madge Pickton, a waif and orphan who is taken in by the owner of Burleigh mill. A romance between Madge and the brother of Burleigh's sweetheart is cleverly worked out, and the result is especially pleasing to the audience. An excellent cast, supports the star. The regular comedy, and a weekly review complete a very interesting bill.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
With nothing original in the plot, yet teeming with action, "North of the Rio Grande" starring Bobo Bonilla and Jack Holt at the Merrimack Square the first three days of this week, is one of those pictures that audiences enjoy so much.

There is a celebration going on at Col. Haddington's ranch in honor of the two race horses, Comet and Meteor, when word comes from Father Illiaire, of nearby Santa Dolores for help. Bob responds with his men and while he is gone two men appear at the ranch and attempt to rustle the two horses. The Colonel attempts to frustrate them and they shoot him down, getting away with Meteor. When Bob returns he rescues vengeance on the murderers and sets out on Comet to find them. He becomes a law to himself when the government confiscates his property. Later he meets Val Hannon, daughter of John Hannon, at Father Illiaire's mission and then the story works out to a satisfactory conclusion.

Mia May stars in the second picture, "The Greatest Truth" and it is a melodrama with many gorgeous scenes. Miss May is very seductive and draws the hero on by her wiles. A comedy adapted from Aesop's fables, "The Wise Duck" and the International News complete the bill.

Railroad Strike

curtailment of train service and additional troops on duty at several trouble centers marked the progress of the rail strike today. Ranks of the strikers also were recruited, as clerks on the Norfolk & Western were authorized to strike at 10 a. m. today. Troops were on guard over railroad property at Bloomington and Clinton, Ill., Parsons, Kas., and New Franklin, Mo., with other units under arms, ready to entrain.

United States marshals were protecting the mails on southwestern lines and guarding the Burlington shops at Aurora, Ill., which had been surrounded by 1000 pickets.

Many injunctions were being issued by federal courts restraining strikers from interfering with operations of trains and shops. Picketing was general throughout the country. New York and the east began to feel the combined effects of the strike of coal miners and railway shopmen. Twenty-one passenger trains on the Erie and all double sections of the West Shore were discontinued, and all express trains on the Norfolk & Western were said to have been delayed three to six hours because of shortage of locomotives and coal. Labor leaders predicted that further curtailment of service was imminent.

Following mass meetings of strikers in the New York area, union leaders declared that their followers were 100 per cent. staunch. Eastern roads, including the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and the Delaware & Hudson announced they had enough mechanics, surplus locomotives and rolling stock to continue present service indefinitely. The Missouri Pacific, in its assurance to Gov. Allen of Kansas that no trains would be taken off the lines in that state, rescinded its earlier order discontinuing 124 local passenger and mixed trains.

Deputies On Duty
Several hundred deputies under United States marshals were protecting the operation of trains on the Texas & Pacific, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, and the International and Great Northern railroads which are in federal receivership. The Santa Fe announced that it was on top of the strike and that the situation was improving steadily.

National guard troops from Booneville and Columbia, Mo., were ordered to New Franklin, following alleged threats by strikers warning officials of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas to leave town within 24 hours. Bloomington, Ill., was one of the outstanding trouble centers, but apprehension was somewhat abated by the presence of state troops.

The tension at Bloomington was aggravated by the clerks, who quit work after they had announced they would refuse to continue while troops were on guard in the shops. Officials of the train service brotherhood also protested against the presence of soldiers.

Renew Protest
Officials of the striking shop crafts renewed their protest against the military occupation but promised they would do all that was possible to avert trouble. The strike and resultant cancellation of trains has interrupted the United States senatorial campaign in Missouri, candidates being compelled to revise their itineraries.

Fresh acts of violence occurred in California. At Roseville, 15 miles from Sacramento, an employee of the Pacific Fruit Express was shot while on duty at a car icing plant. Armed strike sympathizers were said to be occupying positions commanding the plant.

At Newcastle, Cal., attempts were made to dynamite one of the largest water tanks on the southern Pacific system. The railroads are generally endeavoring to operate their shops and union headquarters stands firm in its deterstraight slap-stick comedy. The only one which showed originality in gag was "Step This Way."

Chaplin, the screen's greatest artist, created one of the best comedies of the season in "Pay Day" but it falls short of the Chaplin standard. He seemed uncertain as to whether he should make it out-and-out slap-stick or a satire.

"Poor Boy" is Lloyd Hamilton's best comedy and in my estimation it was as good as "Pay Day."

"Supply and Demand" was a clever juvenile comedy of police landlady that Bookin Tarlington might well have been proud to write.

"Peggy Deane" served to exploit the highly developed pantomime of Baby Peggy. "Cold Feet" was a clever satire on the movie itself.

Thus in this list is included only one comedy that stuck to straight

Buster Keaton's comedies have been generally good, but they have not reached the quality of his earlier ones and they were neither slap-stick nor well-defined satire.

Bobby Connelly was a motion picture actor. He started his career as a singer at three. Always of delicate health, he succumbed to an attack of bronchitis.

It was that very delicacy of appearance that gave his parts deep pathos. His bit in "Ilumoresque" helped give that film its great human appeal.

Senator Edge Serves Notice on Senate Relative to Proposed Tariff Measure

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Announcing that he was far from satisfied with the administration tariff bill in its present form, Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey, served notice today in the senate that he would not vote for the measure if it failed to provide, otherwise than through congressional action, some method by which individual schedules could be revised as circumstances and investigations warranted. Provision for such revision by the president is contained in the bill.

ICE STILL MENACE TO NAVIGATION

BOSTON, July 11.—Evidence that ice is still a menace to navigation in the northern shipping lanes came to this city today, when the Shipping board steamer St. Anthony, which reached Montreal yesterday, was reported to her managers, C. H. Sprague & Son of Boston, as in a damaged and leaking condition, after her voyage from Scandinavian ports.

The ship encountered heavy field ice in the Straits of Belle Isle, and limped up the St. Lawrence river with holes in her bow at the water line and with many plates loosened. She was unloading in the forepeak and No. 1 hold. She will be placed in drydock and repaired before loading her next cargo.

STEAL RING OWNED BY PATRICK HENRY

SPRINGLAKE, N. J., July 11.—A diamond ring, once the property of Patrick Henry, was in the $2600 loot obtained June 29 by burglars who robbed the home of the patriot's great-grandson, William L. Royall, at 214 Tuttle avenue, Hamden, Conn. The ring was a watch once the property of Chief Justice Marshall of the United States supreme court was also stolen.

Mr. Royall, who is a son-in-law of Thomas A. Buckner, vice-president of

house vacant to take in a "movie" Mrs. Royall returned home for a few minutes, but she left at about 4 o'clock. When she returned to her bedroom at 11 o'clock that night she found that a bureau had been thoroughly ransacked. A jewel case, in which heirlooms had been stored, was lying empty on the floor. In addition to the Henry ring and the watch pearls and other gems had been taken.

In their search for valuables the thieves overlooked jewelry which Mr. Royall yesterday would describe only as "very valuable." These gems have since been placed in a safety deposit vault in a Manhattan bank.

TO TEST STATUTE ON TONNAGE TAX

ALBANY, N. Y., July 11.—Atty.-Gen. Charles D. Newton took steps today to test in the United States supreme court the constitutionality of the Pennsylvania statute imposing a tonnage tax on anthracite coal.

The tax, the attorney general alleges, will increase the cost of hard coal in all eastern states depending upon Pennsylvania for their supplies. The Pennsylvania statute has upheld the validity of the state law authorizing its imposition.

Mr. Newton joined in an application to Chief Justice Mosechitzker of the Pennsylvania supreme court for permission to carry the case to the supreme court of the United States and at the same time, sent telegraphic appeals to the attorney generals of New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Delaware to co-operate in the movement.

"WORLD'S FASTEST HUMAN"

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., July 11.—Charles Fiedler, "the world's fastest human," is out to break the record for 300 yards and the quarter mile. He announced yesterday he would make the attempt at the old fair grounds here, where he broke five world records July 4. He has made the 300 yards in 30.1-5 seconds.

WALTHAM BOY FACES CHARGE

FRAMINGHAM, July 11.—John B. Walker, 15, son of E. C. Walker, late mayor of Waltham, and grandson of the Waltham high school in the class of 1921, was arraigned in the local court yesterday charged with the larceny of an automobile.

In order that State Officers Kurlin and Sherlock may have time to make a further investigation into the young man's career, the case was continued to Nov. 4 and Walker was released under $1000 bonds.

Although the charge against Walker at present is based solely upon the larceny of an auto owned by Earl G. Moulton, president of the New England Trust Co. of Pittsburg, the state police are working on the theory that they will be able to lodge various other charges against the young man. The officials say that conditions at the abandoned McDonald farm in Wayland indicate that more than one stolen auto has been headquartered and disguised there.

LIFESAVERS STRIKE

OCEAN CITY, N. J., July 11.—The Ocean City beach patrol, members of which have a remarkable record for saving venturesome bathers, struck in a body last night, leaving the long beach unprotected.

The life guards, who so far this season have not had a drowning to mar their record, walked out because the city refused to increase their wages. They are paid $16 a week, which is deducted each week for their uniforms. They demand a minimum of $25 a week.

There are about 25 men in the patrol.

FRENCH-AMERICAN ORPHANAGE OUTING

The annual outing for the children of the French-American orphanage in Pawtucket street was held today at the M.M.I. novelties in Foxbury. As in previous years the affair was conducted under the auspices of the members of St. Joseph's Sewing circle and proved very enjoyable for all the little ones who attended.

Forty automobiles furnished gratis by prominent residents of the city through the efforts of Mayor Brown and his secretary, conveyed the 250 children of the home to the outing grounds, the start from the orphanage being made at 8.45 o'clock.

At the novelties the little ones were welcomed by the clergy and shortly after their arrival games and sports were started. There were races of all descriptions and suitable prizes were awarded the winners. At noon a bountiful dinner was served in the open and the afternoon was taken up with more amusements. Looking after the welfare of the children were the sisters of the orphanage, the members of the circle and Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I., and Rev. Joseph A. Bolduc, O.M.I. The arrangements were in charge of Rev. J. A. Bolduc, O.M.I., and Mrs. C. H. Bolavert, president of the circle.

COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS

AUGUSTA, Me., July 11.—The Boston & Maine railroad was authorized yesterday by the public utilities commission to issue $1,000,000 bonds, the proceeds to be used to pay in part the balance of the indebtedness due the director general of railroads for money expended for betterments and addition to the property of the company and its subsidiaries during federal control.

BAKERS CONVENT

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 11.—About 250 members of the New England Baking association held its bi-monthly meeting in this city and on Lake Champlain yesterday. Aside from business and speech-making, a golf tournament was staged, the lowest score being turned in by Ralph D. Ward of New York. Second prize was won by J. P. Thompson of Boston, third by Edward Johnson of Boston, fourth by Lee Tannerholtz of Boston.

At a meeting of the officers and governors of the association, the secretary was instructed to send a resolution to the National Baking association supporting its stand against proposed exorbitant tariff on materials used in bread and baking products. It was voted to endorse the selection of the place of the annual meeting at the Ocean house, Swampscott, Mass.

REVOLUTION FRUSTRATED

PARIS, July 11.—Plans for a monarchist revolution in Portugal fixed for Sunday were successfully frustrated by the government, says a dispatch to Le Journal. TEN HORSES BURNED IN PORTLAND FIRE

PORTLAND, Me., July 11.—Ten horses were lost in a fire that destroyed the stables of Stephen A. Kerrigan on St. James street early yesterday, and for a time threatened to spread to the plant of the Turner Centre Creamery adjoining.

Officer Joseph W. Dresser was returning from his post at Stroudwater when he saw the flames shooting from the lower part of the stable. Officers Ray Bryant and E. L. Wallace joined him as he started for the stable, after sending in an alarm.

A pair of horses, the property of Ralph Oakley of 57 Burnham street, were saved by the officers before they were finally driven from the blazing building. Another attempt was made to rescue the horses when more men arrived on the scene, but the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to enter the building.

As the flames broke through the roof they furnished a sight that drew scores to the scene. A watchman of the creamery company ran a dozen machines from the garage to safety, when it was feared the flames would spread from the stable. The firemen were kept busy for over an hour and a half before the fire was under control.

It was believed the loss of the building and horses would total $10,000. It was impossible to ascertain how the blaze started.

CONTRACT FOR STATE PRINTING

Labor Unions Win a Victory in a Most Unusual Way in Boston

New Contract Made by Commission Results in Saving of $50,000 to State

(Special to The Sun) BOSTON, July 11.—One of the prettiest little squabbles the executive officials of the state have seen for a long time has just been settled in a most unusual manner.

It had to do with the contract for the state's printing, a contract which involves the expenditure of more than half a million dollars annually. In fact, two years ago, it ran over $700,000, and is likely to approach the $800,000 figure this year because of the need for printing ballots to be used at primaries and the state election.

For many years the state's printing has been done by The Wright & Potter Printing Company, the largest printing establishment in Boston. Only a few years ago, the firm built a magnificent plant, immediately in the rear of the capitol building, in order that they might thereby increase their efficiency in handling the state's business.

The plant has been run on a union basis, and for the past ten years the contract has specified that the working hours on state's business should not exceed forty-four per week. This limitation has rankled in the breasts of open shop printing establishments.

In Boston, and apparently there was a concerted effort on their part this year either to have this clause eliminated, or to get the contract away from the Wright & Potter company.

When the legislature had under consideration a bill to renew the contract, an amendment was offered in the lower branch providing that there should be no limitation of hours. This was defeated, although twice offered. Finally the bill went to the senate, where the amendment was again offered and defeated, after which the upper branch rejected the bill.

This left the question up in the air, inasmuch as the previous contract expired, by its terms, on July first. Department heads began to have visions of a delightful era in which each should be permitted to have his printing done wherever he might see fit. But wiser counsel finally prevailed, and in its closing hours the legislature created a commission, consisting of seven public officials, to prepare and award a new contract for the state printing.

This commission, in due time, prepared a new contract, advertised and opened bids. Four bids were presented, and to their amazement it was found that Wright & Potter were the highest bidders, their figures having advanced more than fifty percent. In at least one instance, over the price for which they have done the work during the past five years.

Two of the four bids, the lowest in amount, were rejected, the commission deciding that neither of the bidders would be able to perform the work in a satisfactory manner. The second bidder, George E. Ellis and Company, convinced the commission that it could meet the requirements of the contract, and as its bid involved a saving of at least $50,000 annually to the state, it was finally accepted.

Then came the first hitch. The commission decided to award the contract for two years, and although the Ellis company had submitted its bid on a two-year basis, it refused to sign the contract unless it was made for five years, arguing that it would be necessary to install much special equipment, and that the profits on a two-year contract would be insufficient to meet the cost.

The commission, however, remained firm in its insistence upon a two-year contract, a majority being unwilling to tie the commonwealth to an arrangement which might prove unsatisfactory, principally because the Ellis plant is somewhat remote from the state house. This created an impasse and for a time it appeared that matters were tied in a veritable Gordian knot for the attorney-general, who was chairman of the special commission, decided that, having voted to give the contract to the Ellis company, the commission had no right to take it away.

But when the officials of the Ellis company became convinced that there was no possibility of extending the contract to five years, they lost all interest in it, and with their consent, it was finally arranged that the contract should be signed by them, and then assigned to the Wright & Potter company, the latter company agreeing to

L.H.S. ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Lowell High School Alumni Association will meet at the high school at 8 o'clock, this evening, to formulate further plans for the purchase of Spaulding park and the adjacent E. W. accept, the figures named in the Ellis bid.

Consequently the state printing will be done in just the same manner as in the immediate past, by the same company, but at a saving to the state of at least $50,000 from that company's original bid.

The labor unions, and particularly those affiliated with the printing craft, hail the result as a great victory for them, but as a matter of fact the union features of the controversy were never discussed in the commission's deliberations and it was settled without regard to their desires. That their relationship to the situation had much to do with the bids, however, there can be no doubt, and the fact that the contract is to be performed by a company operated under their rules will naturally be a source of gratification to them. The fact that the forty-four hour week provision has been omitted from the present contract will probably have no effect upon them, as they will refuse to permit their members to work longer, and the printing company apparently has no intention of changing to an open shop basis.

THE BOY SCOUT FUND REACHES $3200

The Boy Scout reorganization committee met last night, in the chamber of commerce rooms. Reports of team captains in the drive for funds showed a total of approximately $3200 to date. The majority of this is ready cash. Final reports are being tabulated and the result will be announced at the meeting next Monday evening, when an effort will be made to have the 18 members of the original executive committee present. A motion was made and carried that a permanent council be chosen and that a first class charter for this council be applied for. The question of details of organization and the application for the charter will be referred to the executive committee, which will report its plans for confirmation at the next meeting.

New England Scout Executive R. N. Berry of Boston, was present at last night's meeting and offered timely suggestions. A special executive committee was appointed which will meet Thursday evening for the purpose of arranging details relative to the formation of a permanent council. They will report their progress at the general meeting on Monday.

MIDWAY NETS THE CITY ABOUT $6000

The Fourth of July midway on the South common this year, netted the park department about $6000, according to John W. Kern, superintendent of the department. This is practically double the amount realized in previous years. Last year, the park department allowed the American Legion to conduct the midway for $3000. All over and above that amount went to the Legion.

The money obtained from the letting of concessions goes to the park department and not into the general treasury fund. A law to this effect was passed a few years ago.

"Our sink had such a horrid odor"

"Our kitchen sink became positively objectionable. We tried everything—poured in gallons of hot soda suds, ammonia, lye water. Nothing seemed to help. Finally, John sent for the plumber.

"He opened up the trap—the curved pipe under the sink. My dear! That's where the smell came from! I never knew a sink drain could be so dreadful.

"After the plumber left, the odor was not so bad for a while, but then it grew worse.

"I'm so proud of my clean, little kitchen. That sink made me too blue for anything.

"Last Thursday evening, the Lynn's wife, Mrs. Lynn, came into the kitchen to help me with the coffee and sandwiches.

"What a perfect dear of a kitchen you have," she said, going over to rinse her hands at the sink—and then I saw her smile fade.

"She is such a model housekeeper. I felt like crying. 'Oh, isn't it too dreadful!'—I managed to say. 'And we've done everything.'

"It was then she told me about Sylpho-Nathol.

"It didn't seem possible, but Mrs. Lynn had had a sink that smelled even worse, she said, than mine. And Sylpho-Nathol made it sweet and clean over night.

"Next morning, I phoned the grocer to include a bottle of Sylpho-Nathol in my order. Following directions on the package, I put a teaspoonful into a quart of warm water and poured the clean-smelling, pearly gray solution into the sink drain.

"From that minute, my sink has smelled just as sweet and clean as it always looked.

"I use Sylpho-Nathol in a lot of ways—for scrub water that not only cleans and sweetens, but destroys all kinds of germs, as a sprinkler that chases away damp, musty, cellar smells; for the laundry tub, ice-box drains and garbage cans. And, of course, I use it regularly in the bathroom around the toilet fixture, and as a weekly flush for the closet bowl."

Sylpho-Nathol is 4½ times stronger than Carbolic Acid—yet is as safe to have in the house as a cake of soap. It comes in four handy sizes, the 35c, 65c, $1.25. Complete directions are on the bottle. Your grocer or druggist has it. If he hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by name—Sylpho-Nathol.

Homogenization

IT'S a mouthful—that word! But it's necessary, or at least the process is, in order that every mouthful of Jersey Ice Cream shall have the smoothness typical of Jersey.

Homogenization is the process of breaking up the fat cells in the cream after it comes from the Pasteurizer. We could make good ice cream without this expensive process; but it wouldn't be as delightfully smooth; it would lack the quality you expect in Jersey.

THE MAYOR AND THE CHARTER

We are now having another instalment of the unsavory notoriety which seems to be one of the inevitable accompaniments of Mayor Brown's administration. Since the beginning of the year, the mayor has been in a continuous wrangle over the choice of heads of departments. In his inaugural address, he made glowing promises of reform, economic administration and strict enforcement of the provisions of the city charter; but, strange to say, no other official at city hall has run afoul of the organic law of our city as often as the mayor.

In his inaugural he laid great stress upon the necessity of conducting the purchasing agent's office with strict fairness and in full accord with the requirement of competitive bidding. Here is part of his statement in reference to the supply department: "The man whom I shall name for purchasing agent will establish in this office an unquestioned system of honest competitive bidding, and before he is long in the position, he will have the confidence and respect of all people who desire to do business with the city on an honest basis."

That the mayor of the city should have so far departed from his inauguration promise to enforce competitive bidding as to make a farce and a deadletter of that part of our city charter, in his purchase of motor vehicles—two for the departments in charge of the Board of Public Service and one for his personal use, is quite astounding. There was no objection to his purchase of a new car, although it was not necessary, but it was expected that at least the mode of purchase would comply with the law. Yet it didn't. The passenger Packard car purchased at $2298 was registered for the mayor's department about two days before the bids were opened. As for the two Packard trucks purchased for the Public Service Board no bids were called for before the trucks were purchased and delivered to the departments.

Here is a sample of how Mayor Brown carries out his promises made on assuming office and during the election campaign. Through a reorganized Board of Public Service in which the two temporary appointees are his pliant tools, he makes an attempt to legalize the purchase of the two motor trucks; but this will not rectify the irregularity by which they were originally placed in service of the departments without competition.

This disregard of the charter might have been less reprehensible if the city had not already during the first half of the year, invested about $32,000 in motor vehicles. Thus the mayor after all his protestations of firm purpose to give an economic administration of the city's affairs, added nearly $15,000 to the total amount spent for motor vehicles this year and in a manner that has led to injunction proceedings on the question of legality.

The mayor exceeded his authority in going over the heads of the Public Service Board, to create the office of superintendent of ash collection and appoint the incumbent at $48 per week. The fact that the members of the board who have been removed, repudiated these acts of the mayor was to their credit, but their removal quickly followed on another charge however.

It is in order at this juncture to call the attention of the citizens to the danger that lurks in the Public Service Board if it be as at present constituted, merely a rubber stamp to ratify the acts and wishes of the mayor. The two temporary appointees control the board so that Engineer Bowers is overruled on every division. With such a board and a mayor to use it for his own purposes in building up a great political machine, he could so entrench himself in office that it would be a most difficult task to dislodge him. Here then is the danger of Mayor Brown's policy of intermeddling with the departments and trying to dominate their action so as to comply with his wishes at every move. The Board of Public Service if permitted to do its work in its own way would prove a very useful body in improving the conditions of the departments under its charge; but if obliged to obey the beck and nod of the mayor, regardless of who he may be, its usefulness is destroyed.

Apparently Mayor Brown has not yet come to realize that he is not a "city manager" as he must think he is, when he says that he "is running the city." He must be made to realize that the head of each department is responsible for results therein and that it is for the results the mayor should look instead of continually harassing the departments and disorganizing their work by unwarranted dictation and bossism.

ANOTHER MILL STRIKE

It is deeply to be regretted that the trouble in the Merrimack mills cannot be adjusted without a strike. We are confident that it could be settled satisfactorily if there was any organization or committee holding the confidence of both sides to take the matter up at a conference of the parties and willing to base a settlement upon a just presentation of the facts.

It cannot be denied that the textile business in face to face with great difficulties, especially here in New England; but on the other hand the operatives are justified in holding out for a living wage. The question to be decided is whether the new scale of wages offered by the company has a purchasing power equal to what the previous wage scale had, say six months ago. In some industries the tendency is to lower wages, whereas in others, wages either remain stationary or are slightly advanced. It is remarkable that while some operatives of long experience find it difficult to earn $18 or $20 per week in the mills, we find mechanics and artisans earning from 75 cents to a dollar an hour in several of the building trades. Where this prevails the men are getting more than they deserve as compared with the rate of wages paid in the factories. Where one workman gets more than he should, he is taking something away from the one who is underpaid. But at the present time, as has been the custom even in prosperous times, everybody gets as much as he can regardless of who is cheated or who gets the short end. The fact is, that the country has not yet reached a fair adjustment of wages or a fair stabilization of prices. What is true of wages is equally true of prices. Some commodities have fallen in price to the level of 1914, whereas others are still hovering on the scale that prevailed in the years following the war. It will require six months or more to overcome these inequalities that cause so much trouble in the purchase of supplies and the adjustment of wages.

It is probable that there difficulties will not be fully overcome until the tariff bill now before congress is enacted and put into operation. The general belief is that it will soon result in an increase of prices, which will speedily overcome the present controversies if they should still remain unsettled. There will then be a demand for higher wages instead of a fight against reductions.

Today's Word
Today's word is "antidote." It's pronounced an-ti-dot, with accent on the first syllable. The a and i are short and the o long. It is most commonly used as a noun, and means—remedy for poison or other evil. As a noun, it is used with "against," "for," or "to." But it may also be a transitive verb, thus "He could not antidote the poison." It comes from the Latin antidotum, derived from the Greek "given against." It's used like this: "Repulicals are the antidotes for oppression."

Sure Enough Exception
Among the crowd sitting around the stove at the village store was a droll, illiterate fellow, Joe. Another member of the group was Wiley, a young highbrow, just back from college. Eager to enlighten his benighted townsman, young Wiley was dispensing his newly acquired wisdom freely, and after making several other sage observations, remarked: "One must begin at the bottom and go up." "Yes," agreed Joe, "even must begin at the bottom of everything but one." "And what's that, Joe?" inquired the collegian. "Digging a well," Judgo.

Close Acquaintance
Lord Balfour, who is a golf enthusiast, often plays on the famous St. Andrew links in Scotland. According to a story, a player on the links asked his caddy if he often carried clubs for famous men. "Lots of 'em," replied the caddy, and after naming a few more or less distinguished persons mentioned Mr. Balfour and said that he had a close acquaintanceship with him. "Just what do you mean by a close acquaintanceship?" asked the golfer. "This," replied the caddy, pointing to his legs. "I wear 'em a pair of Mr. Balfour's trousers."—London Times.

The Grand Concert
It was the night of the grand concert, and approaching the hour at which it had been advertised to commence. Blobo and Blabba had taken tremendous pains over it. Almost as much pain as it would give to the people who came to listen to it. They had engaged an enormous hall, with a seating capacity of 4000, and expected to make large profits. At 7 o'clock the money-takers, ticket-takers, ushers and attendants were assembled on a mass in the hall. Then came the following scene: "Money-takers all ready?" "Yes, sir." "Ticket-takers all ready?" "Yes, sir." "Ushers and attendants stand by the doors." "Yes, sir." "Now open the doors." The iron doors crashed open. There was a terrific gust of wind as two small boys entered. "Please, mister," said a tiny voice, "can we both get in on this free pass?"

None For Breakfast
The nervous young man was standing in front of the club notice board reading the news and biting his nails. Suddenly a voice boomed in his ear the following awful sentence: "There won't be any for breakfast!" The young man turned and beheld a tall, dignified fellow-member of about 75, who glared at him. The glare was so terrific that the young man was forced to ask "Won't be any what, sir?" "Finger nails!" boomed the old fellow.

Sea Song
Give me a yacht with a wind-filled sail Straining the slanting mast.
With the spray thrown far by her quivering bow.
And the sun-kissed flapping sails
Give me a yacht in a sparkling breeze,
With the lee rail under the brine,
As I steer her course with a steady hand,
And feel that the world is mine!

Give me a yacht when the billows roll
And the gleaming whitecaps break,
Till I laugh with joy as I look around
At the track of the foaming wake.
Give me a yacht, till the roll and the pitch
Are beginning to make me sick,
And my poor head aches, and the whole world swims—
Then give me the land—oh, quick!

MUST NOT MARRY UNLESS WAGE EARNER

NEW YORK, July 11.—No woman will be permitted to get married in New York state unless she can convince the authorities she can earn a living. The law is the law. And it is a democratic candidate for the state senate from the fourth senatorial district, is elected, and if she can make her fellow legislators see things her way.

The women would not, however, be content to show they could support husbands as well. The idea, Dr. Hochfelder said, is that no woman ought to marry unless she is in a position to take care of herself and her children in case she loses her husband. Other plank in her platform call for sex education and eugenic marriage.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

At last the "street" department is directing its efforts towards Pawtucketville. That is, it has carried over curbstones in some of the streets and that is a sure sign that proper sidewalks will soon be laid in the district. For some years past very little attention has been given the district, perhaps because the residents of that territory were not interested enough in petitioning for their needs, or again because it was felt by the city fathers that as long as there were no complaints, everything was all right. Fourth avenue has been an accepted street for years, but one side of the thoroughfare has always been without curbing, but pretty soon the edges of the sidewalks will be laid out, that the landlards, that is, some of them, will grasp the opportunity and will have decent sidewalks laid out. The same may be said about a portion of White street, which was accepted by the city fathers or created by the city fathers, or again, four years ago, but which has always been left in a deplorable condition. Curbstones have also been brought there and it is hoped that while the edges of the sidewalks are laid out, the road and sidewalks will be paved. Pawtucketville is one of the important residential districts of the city and should be looked after by city officials. The residents of White street, from Moody street to Riverside, Second and Third avenues, as well as Ardell street are very anxious to have a fire alarm installed in their district. The nearest point to pull in an alarm is at Pawtucket square or at the corner of Fourth avenue and Mammoth road, and a blaze in any of the houses in that locality would get a good start before the firemen would be summoned. If one depended on the fire alarm system, Chief Saunders has said, the city would not be safe for such an improvement and, therefore, he says that it would be impossible to lay another line as the cable is full to capacity. He intends, however, no improvement can be made until a new fire alarm system is installed in the city. This is a matter that should receive the attention of the city council.

The past few weeks there have been numerous recitals in Lowell by the pupils of various teachers, piano, violin and vocal. In conversation with one of these teachers, I am told that the pupil spends countless hours of study and practice in preparation for the grand finale to the concert work. It is indeed tedious and sometimes discouraging for the teacher to spend a great deal of valuable time drilling the young pupil in the fine points of the composition to be rendered. Lowell is fortunate in having a young talent in this line and the exhibition at the close of the season brings out whatever latent powers the pupil possesses, and also gives the nervous youngster an opportunity to appear in public.

Lowell druggists are in receipt of a letter designated "A Post Mortem" and dealing with a recent whiskey investigation by a Boston newspaperman. In his lengthy commentary, the writer contends that the enforcement of national prohibition has taught the people the old time retail liquor dealers how much they had to learn about liquor or the liquor business in which they spent their lives. In the old days a retail liquor dealer would ask the price and order and accept a barrel of whiskey from the retailer without so much as sampling it. All that was required was that the whiskey was colored dark and that it had a "kick" in it sufficient to cause the drinker to stagger home singing "How Dry I Am." Today, the unprincipled bootlegger colors his adulterated brown sugar and molasses and increases a barrel of 19 gallons to the neighborhood of 50 gallons by using adulterated mixtures. The old fallacy of "bottled in bond" is deceptive, claims this writer. The term has not the slightest reference to the quality of the liquor so labeled, but simply means that it is bottled under government supervision in a bonded warehouse, and it may be the poorest whiskey in the world. Barium's saying applies forcibly to the drinking public of today.

The new traffic beacons are making a decided hit locally. Besides their practical use, the beacons are ornamental and improve the city's appearance. The green and red lights can be seen or some distance away and the command, "Keep to the Right" is conspicuous enough for the least observant to see. Other cities in Massachusetts have had marked success with the new idea and it is only proper that Lowell keep up its share of the improvement. The number of these beacons around Boston and its suburbs and everywhere they are proving satisfactory.

"I wish I were a kid again," is the expression I heard one day recently coming from an elderly person on the South common. The cause for the remark was a group of youngsters splashing about in the sodding waters of the pond on the common. The scene was typical of all descriptions and nationalities of children here and there, availing the splashing of playful companions and counter-attacking with childish vigor. Improvised bathing suits, none of them of the prize-winning variety, add a humorous touch to the scene. Less fortunate ones cannot resist the temptation to cool off and venture into the water. The scene is a happy one, and even dogs take their daily dip and find amusement in their fellow-bathers. The ancient cry, "Ho! for the beach," is now supplanted by the chorus, "Ho for the South common!"

The work of the park department in restoring the beach to playing condition is worthy of commendation. To view the site after the midway one would think that the grounds could never be reconditioned in such quick order. It is the consensus of opinion that the diamond in the park is even better than it was before the July 4 period, and that is saying a great deal. Several players of Twilight League teams were surprised at the smoothness of the surface after the disturbances resulting from driven stakes, etc., and noticed an improvement in their playing. Some fast baseball will be played if the work of re-creating continues as at present and both players and fans will appreciate it.

What promises to be of great inconvenience to traffic for a time, at least, is the laying of new track and reconstruction work in Central street on and near the canal bridge in that section. Yesterday the street railway company started a one track system over the bridge. The operation takes some time and the result is that traffic is tied up for the time being. Traffic on the bridge at the junction of Central and Market streets will have a merry time of it while it lasts. When a car is going over the switch, the trolley is prone to sever its connection with the wire and it must be replaced. It is kept on the alert replacing it. Buses stop for a moment to witness the unlikeliest of traffic tie-ups.

ELKS DEDICATE SITE FOR NEW HOME

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 11.—One of the features of the opening day's program of the 55th Annual session of the Grand Lodge of Elks was the dedication yesterday afternoon of the site of the proposed new million dollar home of the Atlantic City lodge No. 276, on Virginia avenue, near the boardwalk.

Gov. Edwards of New Jersey delivered the address of welcome at the opening session last night on the steel pier Harry Bacharach, grand equire, and former mayor of this city, presided; the Rev. John Dyrast, grand chaplain, delivered the invocation. The response was by Grand Exalted Ruler William Wallace Mountain of Toledo.

Dedicate Ground.
The dedication of the ground for a handsome clubhouse, which will be placed at the convenience of visiting Elks by the shore fraternities, was marked by simple ceremonies and took place in the presence of about a thousand visitors. Grand Equire Bacharach, who was master of ceremonies, declared the proposed home would be "a foremost American institution dedicated to Atlantic City." Ground was broken by Grand Exalted Ruler Mountain, wielding a golden spade. The spade, a property of the Shore lodge and will eventually be displayed in a prominent place in the new structure.

Elks continued arriving here from every section of the country. One of the largest delegations disembarked from the "California Special" at a o'clock yesterday morning with more than 1000 visitors. Exalted Ruler Frank G. Fallon is at the head of the delegation from New York No. 1. Unlike many of the other exalted rulers who are stopping with the national officers at the Traymore, he is with his own delegation at The Breakers.

New York, the "Mother lodge," will occupy the position of honor at the head of the parade on Thursday which will be reviewed by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt. Exalted Ruler Fallon declared last night that New York would have probably 750 in its delegation. The band and drill corps is coming down Thursday morning "Uncle Joe" Cannon with omnipresent black cigar expects to lead the congressional delegation in the parade.

The first executive business session commenced today with Grand Exalted Ruler William Wallace Mountain presiding. An important report was that of the Elks' national memorial headquarters building commission headed by former Governor John K. Tener of Pennsylvania.

According to the report of the grand secretary, Fred Robinson, charitable work done by the Elks since 1880 amounts to $13,780,433.25.

MAY USE AUTOS FOR BATH HOUSES

BOSTON, July 11.—"Auto" bathing, the practice of stopping for bathing in an automobile, is perfectly proper in the Bay State, in the opinion of the members of the Metropolitan Park commission, despite the fact that a New York man was fined $10 and costs in New London yesterday, in the opening of the New London authorities' campaign against auto bathing. The Metropolitan Park commission's view is that so long as the properties are observed and the bathers adjust modest curtains to their automotive vehicles, their diversions will not be interfered with. Thousands of people who bathe from autos at Massachusetts beaches can thus continue this practice without fear of the displeasure of the commission which supervises most of the Bay State's larger beaches.

Edward Shank, a New York man, was the first person to run afoul of a New London city ordinance that forbids bathers to walk through the streets attired in bathing suits. He had dived in his automobile and was walking to the beach when arrested. The ordinance is being stubbornly opposed by the merchants and owners of beach concessions.

More than half the population of France was engaged in farming before the war.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem WHAT OF IT?

A year ago today I had my troubles,
A year ago today I had my woes,
I was worrying about something I must do without,
Some other little thing, I suppose;
I was fretting over something most important,
Which I cannot for the life of me recall—
Oh, that trouble that I had was unquestionably sad,
Though I somehow can't remember it at all.

A year ago today I suffered greatly,
A year ago today my heart was sore,
I was wounded, I was hurt—there was someone "did me dirt,"
Though I don't recall who did it, any more;
For it may have been an enemy or comrade
Or a woman—I have totally forgot;
I can't tell you who it was, I can't recollect the cause;
It was all about—I don't remember what!

A year ago today my face was tragic,
A year ago today my life was wrecked,
But exactly how or why I can't tell you if I try,
Though I do my very best to recollect.
So the troubles that at present are annoying
Really needn't make my hair so very gray,
For I'm pretty sure to find that they've wholly slipped my mind
When today is just "a year ago today!"

William B. Martin is Making Rapid Progress in the Musical World

sion in Paris that this exceptional invitation has been offered him. When asked, if the opportunity to study music in America was as good as it was in France, he said that just as much could be learned here but that environment made a great difference. Mr. Martin has been singing operas written in French and in order to master the fine points of that language he lived with a French family and never spoke a word of English, except when he met some American friends or tourists. After the glee club tour was ended Mr. Martin stayed in Paris and studied under M. Bujol, one of the most noted voice teachers of Paris. Under his tutelage he advanced rapidly and his wonderful voice gained many honors for him. Mr. Martin will return to Paris the first of October and will resume his studies until his debut at Christmas time. He expects to stay in Paris a year or two and then he intends to go to Italy and study there. He says that he will live with an Italian family as it enables one to learn the language more quickly and also to know the intricacies of it.

There is great opposition to American musical students in France because the French people do not believe that the American has a musical race, he said. They consider the Americans superficial, and that the only music they have is jazz. It was to combat this feeling that the trip of the Harvard Glee club was arranged and Mr. Martin says it has had a good effect on the French people. He also said that when an American undertakes to sing French opera the French say that it can't be done. First they say an American has no appreciation of real music, then they say that he is not properly master of the intricacies of the French language, and finally that it is impossible for him to act. The fact that Mr. Martin is to sing at the Paris opera shows that he has clearly overcome all the objections that the French people had to offer, and has convinced them that there is one American who can do all the things they said he couldn't.

BIG MONDAY NIGHT CROWD AT KASINO

"The biggest crowd of the season" was reported at the Kasino in Thorndike street last evening. It was the first night under the new management, W. F. Wholey having leased the building from Charles Bunker who is at present visiting his mother in Bar Harbor, Me. Speaking of the opening night, Mr. Wholey said: "It was very gratifying to me to see so many at the Kasino on our opening night and I am going to try and furnish entertainment that will warrant increased patronage. We had a splendid crowd last night and everybody seemed to be having a good time."

Last night's attractions included cabaret singing and complimentary dances by the management. Tomorrow evening, Madden and O'Neill will entertain with comedy dances on roller skates. The program will also include Al Raymond and Irene Adams, cabaret dancers. Thursday evening there will be general dancing.

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED TO THE MAN-IN-THE-MOON

THERE WAS A FUNNY LOOKING HOUSE OF OLD BOARDS.

Now, of course, my dears, you'll wonder where on earth Mr. Peerabout was after he got pushed off the Moon. Well, that's where he was—on earth. Not quite on it either, for after turning empty-steen somersaults, the poor soul fell plump into the apple-tree in Old Orchard.

But by the time Nancy and Nick had reached the earth and begun to search for him he had gone again. So no wonder the people of Bright Meadowland and Whispering Forest and Ripple Creek and even Old Orchard itself hadn't seen him.

When the Moon-Man landed in the top branches of the apple-tree he was so shaken up and so breathless with his great fall he didn't move for a minute.

Then he sat up and rubbed his eyes, and felt over his bald head for bumps and looked to see if his clothes were torn. Then he had time to look about and see what sort of place he had landed in.

There in the tree-top was a funny little house of old boards and in the doorway stood a queer little fellow with enormous top-boots and a spotted hankie in his hand.

"Blow!" cried Peerabout indignantly. "What do you think I am—a dandemon? Or a soap-bubble? I'm Mr. Peerabout from the Moon."

"Oh, then," said the other, "you're like the poem, aren't you—the one that says the Man-in-the-Moon came tumbling down and asked the way to Norwich."

"Well, sir, I'm sorry. I don't know where Norwich is. My name's Buzkins and I run this little elevator here up into the sky and back. I'm waiting for a passenger."

"Well, I guess I'm it," said Mr. Peerabout. "I don't wish to go to Norwich. I want to go back to the Moon."

FAREWELL PARTY

John Horan, a popular member of the Davis Square chapter, was presented a beautiful gold watch recently on the occasion of his departure for New York, where he has secured a position with the Warren Construction Co. of that city. The presentation was made by Edward Lenkey and Mr. Horan responded fittingly. The presentation was attended with a pleasing musical program, including solos by Messrs. Frank Crowley, Peter Flood, Thomas Horik, Stephen Howard, E. Roddy, and Jenn O'Loughlin. An endurance "duck and wing" contest was won by Mr. Leo Connors. The party concluded with Mr. Horan in his new field of labor.

Daniel Webster's Hat

ONE of Daniel Webster's famous retorts was to a young man when their hats got mixed.

"Why, Mr. Webster," said he, "our heads are just the same size."

"On the outside, perhaps," replied Webster.

If there had been 10,000,000 automobiles in Webster's day this might have hit off the feeling about tires as well.

To understand the tire situation today, go back to 1918, 1919 and 1920, when tire makers were jumping to catch up with the demand. In 1921 they more than caught up.

And in 1922, every car-owner knows where he can get plenty of tires with plenty of big discounts. Plenty of bargains with ingenious sales-arguments.

A vast quantity of merchandise he knows little or nothing about.

The quantity problem is history.

It is all this quantity of tires—and their wide variance in value that is making most car-owners determined to get quality.

Hundreds of thousands of car-

owners rode on Royal Cords last year.

The unobserving man might say that this was reaching the limit of the quality idea.

Yet, in January, February, March, April and May, 1922, the sales of U. S. Royal Cords through dealers more than doubled over the same period of 1921. A new high record for Royal Cords.

Spontaneous buying through dealers.

You have, perhaps, overheard some other tire being sold for "as good as a Royal."

At a time like this remember what Daniel Webster said.

THE IRISH SITUATION

Insurgents Wreck Railroad Lines—22 Reported Captured Near Belfast

LONDON, July 11.—(By the Associated Press.) Reports of the wrecking of railway lines by the Irish insurgents indicate that the republicans are making considerable headway in their campaign against the government. The movement of Free State troops, the republicans are stated to be strengthening themselves in the south-west, where they have mined the roads and put the railroad communication with Dublin, so that at present it is impossible to travel by rail farther than Thurles, 50 miles north-east of Cork.

Blow Up Bridge

DUBLIN, July 11.—The republicans in addition to their attempt to destroy the bridge across the River Liffey, blew up the Gifford bridge in County Donegal this morning, an essential artery of traffic in West Donegal. Other bridges have been seriously damaged.

Forces Clash

BELFAST, July 11.—Republican and Free State forces clashed at Fiddown between Dunster and Drogheda in County Louth. Twenty-two of the insurgents were captured.

FRANCE TO KEEP EXPERTS AT THE HAGUE

PARIS, July 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—France has decided to keep her experts at The Hague until the end of the conference on Russian affairs there. It was announced in official circles today.

This decision, it was explained, does not mark any change in the attitude of the government, which now believes that no practical good will come of The Hague conference because of the position taken by Russia. The French experts, it was stated, will remain at The Hague and endeavor with the other allies to seek some way out of their difficulty, but they do not look for success unless the Russians radically alter their stand.

CAMP DEVENS SOLDIERS HELD

Two soldiers from Camp Devens were arrested last night about 9 o'clock on Market street and taken to the police station. They were booked for suspected larceny of blankets and rain coats from the camp. The arresting officer's attention was attracted by a large crowd gathered around a Hudson touring car, owned by Michael Lallia.

When the officer arrived, he noticed several men leaving with blankets and rain coats, and he discovered that the soldiers were selling them for two dollars apiece. The officer brought the men to the station where they gave the names of Cornelius J. Glazebrook and William Hunt. Michael Lallia was also brought in and was arraigned on the charge of driving a machine without a license. He was fined in the session of the local court this morning.

The case of the two soldiers did not come up on the docket of the court this morning. Captain Petro got in touch with the officials at Camp Devens and told them of the facts of the case. The men will be detained at the station until word is received from the camp regarding the disposition of the case.

MAN THOUGHT DEAD IS FOUND ALIVE

ALEXANDRIA, N. H., July 11.—John Riley of this town and Cambridge, Mass., was found alive yesterday, after a count-wide search was made for his body.

He telephoned to the authorities of this town, stating that he didn't know until last night that there was any alarm because of his absence, nor did he know that he was thought to be dead, a victim of assault with fatal amnesia.

Riley disappeared on the night of the Fourth after he was beaten by Walter Fletcher, a war veteran, who was a squatter on Riley's farm. His own story of his disappearance, related to Attorney H. S. Holden, who prosecuted his assistant in behalf of the town officers and citizens of Alexandria, showed the privations he suffered as he sought to escape further punishment at the hands of the infuriated Fletcher, who is now held in the Grafton county jail at Woodsville under prohibitive bail of $5000.

Caruso published "Dreams of Long Ago" principally to give his friends autographed copies.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 11.—Regardless of the more threatening aspects of the railroad strike situation, prices at the outset of today's stock market session, including the railway group, were mainly better. Foreign stocks led with one point gains for the day. The market for oil, including the domestic group making fractional advances, Consolidated Gas and National Lead also were strong. Laclede Gas, Davidson Chemical and several of the low-priced coal shares were inclined to ease. Foreign exchanges strengthened before the opening of the market on the more hopeful advices from London and continental points. French and Belgian government bonds made partial recovery from yesterday's severe decline.

Inactive stocks, oils and utilities were the only prominent features of the listless final hour. Gulf States Steel, Barnsdall and Mackay companies showed gains of 2 to 5 points. The closing was strong.

TWILIGHT PLAYGROUNDS

Good Attendance Reported on Opening Night—Movies on South Common

Shortly after six o'clock last evening the park department opened its twilight playgrounds on Charles at and the Lincoln school grounds and both places reported a fine attendance. Volley-ball, baseball, golf, throwing and community singing were on the program and from 6 to 8 o'clock the young people enjoyed themselves. Some difficulty was encountered on Charles street from auto traffic, and automobilists are reminded that that street is a closed one during these hours. The movie show of the summer was given on the south slope of the hill.

At the Lincoln school grounds volleyball, basketball, baseball, golf and many other games were played. Miss Agnes Joyce and Miss Sadie Melanson were in charge. The attendance was good and every thing was carried out in regular order.

The people of Lowell went to the common in droves last night for the opening of the twilight playgrounds. Interest in the pictures was so high that the cool weather was forgotten. These shows are part of the plans for the entertainment of the people during the summer months.

Last night's program consisted of a five reel picture, "The Mystery of the Island" and two comedies. The pictures were presented under the direction of Walter Nelson and the machine was run by Robert Gray.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT PLAYGROUNDS

According to Supt. John W. Kernan of the park department, the opening attendance at the playgrounds yesterday was the largest he had ever witnessed in his ten years of service in the department. It was estimated that the total attendance aggregated between 6000 and 7000. Especially pleasing were the big turnouts at the Moray, Moody and Varnum schools, which were tried out for the first time this year. The children at these places were not content to partake of the out-door sports alone, but went inside to obtain the fundamentals in sewing. The outlook for a successful year is most favorable.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Automobile and Liquor Cases on the List Today—
—Other Cases

Raymond Durand, whose case was continued from July 5, was fined $50 in the district court today, for operating a car while drunk, and another charge for operating without a license was filed. Durand said that he had been drinking beer but that he was not drunk. He hit a machine in the Kenwood district and the Lowell officers were on the lookout for him. The case was decided by sufficient evidence had been presented, that the man was drunk, despite the objections of his counsel, and found against him. Morris Kaplan, twenty years of age, was charged with unlawfully taking an automobile Sunday evening, the property of Dr. Heyden H. Pillsbury. Dr. Pillsbury left his car in East Merrimack street while he went to his office in The Sun building, and when he came out shortly after ten o'clock, the machine was gone. Kaplan was picked up by Officers Hamilton and Conway at the corner of Horns and Perry sts. as he was taking a young lady home. Kaplan said he had no intention of stealing the car, but simply wanted a ride. Dr. Pillsbury was not anxious for a conviction, so the charge of operating a motor vehicle without a license was placed on file, and he was fined $50 on the charge of unlawfully taking a car.

Edith L. Ives was tried on a charge of violating the traffic laws by failing to stop and make himself known after causing an accident. It was alleged that he struck a horse on Middlesex street, knocked him down, and then drove off without stopping to see what damage he had done. The court decided that there was a technical violation of the traffic laws and he was fined $20.

An argument over rent with another man resulted in the arrest of Kazmar Kasz, charged with carrying a dangerous weapon. Sufficient evidence was given to convict the man and he was fined $5. Donald Dion was charged with illegal keeping and he pleaded not guilty. A young boy made a complaint that he was selling liquor to his father, and accompanied by Officers Moore and Albrecht, he was given a marked bill and sent to buy liquor. The officers went to Dion's room at 383 Middlesex street, and found two bottles containing liquor, one of grain alcohol and the other containing gin and brandy. The defendant said that he was using the alcohol for a body liniment for a sore back which had kept him out of work for the past two months. Although the officers could not find the marked bill, the defendant admitted selling the liquor. The court found him guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $50.

Michael G. Lullas was arrested last evening on Market street, charged with operating an automobile without a license. He pleaded not guilty and appeared in the court this morning with a license dated July 11. He was found guilty and fined $10.

George H. Cummings, charged with non-support, was given a suspended sentence of two months to the house of correction, and was released to the probation office. He agreed to pay so much work to his wife.

The absence of counsel, who was in Boston, caused the continuance of the case of Andrew Wilkins, charged with illegal keeping with the intent to sell. His case was continued to July 22.

Manuel Marques, charged with illegal keeping, had his case continued to July 13. His counsel was also detained in Boston.

The case charging Thomas Garabedian with assault and battery was continued to July 13.

PERMITS FOR USE OF TENNIS COURTS

Relative to the use of the park tennis courts at Shedd park, Arthur Sullivan, in charge of the park board playground activities, skated today that Patrick Mullane will be on hand there every day from 2 to 5 and 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. to regulate the issuance of permits therefor. As there is to be a tennis tournament there in August, it is felt that the children of the Oaklands have had a great advantage over the children from other sections and Mr. Mullane will see to it that visitors from other parts of the city will have at least an equal opportunity.

The board of park commissioners has arranged a permit blank, which must be filled in by someone in charge before the courts may be used. Reservations may thus be made in advance, but not earlier than 7 a. m. on Monday of the week desired. A provision for the use of only rubber-soled tennis shoes with heels is also included. The permit shall be issued for one court only, and for use at the hour set. Prompt relinquishment must be made at the expiration of the period, unless one is on hand to use the courts; in this case they may continue to use the courts until the designated party arrives. The courts may be used without permits while idle but must be given over at once to persons having permits. All who have permits must have them on hand ready to show to any park foreman on request.

STRIKERS ARE EVICTED

Deputy Sheriffs Turn Out
Families of Five Lonsdale
Workmen

LOWNSDALE, July 11.—Deputy sheriffs resumed eviction operations here today, when the families of five strikers, formerly employed at the Lonsdale Co., were turned out of their homes and their furniture placed in the yards. A large crowd of strikers and sympathizers watched the evictions but offered no resistance. Eleven deputies were engaged in the work and some of them were armed with riot guns. They were assisted by several colored men.

Strikers and their friends, afterwards had the furniture placed on trucks and taken to a lot where tents, which Organizer Thomas of the United Textile Workers of America said would arrive today, are to be erected.

Three families were evicted on Saturday.

ELMER DOVER RESIGNS PRESENT POST

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Information was received at the capitol from treasury officials today, that Elmer Dover, of Concord, N. H., assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of customs and internal revenue and one of the principals in the Blair-Dover controversy, had submitted his resignation, effective July 15.

Secretary Mellon at the time was attending the cabinet meeting and Mr. Dover was not at his office. The information, which was regarded as fairly authoritative, was that although Mr. Dover asked to be relieved of his post July 15, efforts were being made to have him remain for an additional 60 or 90 days.

BIDS OPEN ON MOTOR TRUCKS FOR CITY

Bids on 5 to 6 ton motor trucks, called for by the new public service board, were opened in the purchasing agent's office this morning at 9 o'clock. The result was as follows: Ralph B. Conins, (Federal Motor Truck), $5025 each; Lowell Bulck Co., $5165 each; Packard Co., $5255 each; Mack Motor Truck Co., $5600 each.

Each of the bids is for a recognized standard truck, according to a statement made in the purchasing agent's office. The difference between the prices, it was said, was less significant than the desire of the men who are to use the trucks.

Purchasing Agent Foye went to Boston with the bids shortly after they were opened, to attend a hearing on a petition filed some days ago by the local automobile dealers' association for an injunction to restrain the city from paying for the trucks. Packard trucks purchased for the street department earlier in the year. Last Saturday the new public service board, apparently satisfied that the initial purchase was illegal, submitted, through the new members, Messrs. Chas. A. and Mackenzie, a new requisition to the purchasing agent, for two 5-ton capacity trucks not to exceed $12,500. The opening of bids this morning was just one-half hour before the injunction hearing began in the supreme court, Boston. Mr. Cloutier, at least, did not attend the hearing, as he was doing his voluntary duty as secretary to the mayor, who was also on duty at city hall.

Still another dog-bite was added to the swelling list today when Dr. Livingston reported that Ernest Dodge, 23 Marshall street, had been bitten on the calf of his right leg by a dog alleged to be the property of one William Morin, Woburn street. Dr. Sherman was notified at once, and will take whatever action is deemed advisable.

LOWELL ROTARY CLUB

Rotarians Plan Big Outing for Orphans in Tyngsboro
Next Tuesday

The orphans' outing committee of the Lowell Rotary club met this morning at the office of Harry Pitts on Hurd street, and further preparations were made for the coming outing which will be held at the Martin Luther grounds, Tyngsboro, on next Tuesday, July 18. In the event of rain or unpleasant weather the affair will be held on the following Thursday, July 19.

The start will be made from the Ayer Home at 11 o'clock with 80 machines, donated by the members at the club conveying the children in parade formation through the downtown streets. The route will be as follows: Ayer Home to Merrimack st., to Central, to Appleton, to Westford and thence through No. Chelmsford to the grounds. About 450 orphans will comprise the party, coming from the French orphanage, St. Peter's, the O'Leary and the Ayer homes. Sixty or more members of the club with their wives will also be the party. Gov. Cox, Congressman Rogers, Mayor Brown and the district rotary governor, Mr. Wilson of Salem will go along as special guests.

During the course of the parade, a 500 pound entertainer from Boston will bring up an animal from the line of march for the amusement of the kiddies. The committee is assured of the co-operation of Supt. Atkinson of the police department who will have traffic officers at interesting streets to prevent interruption during the parade. The superintendent has also accepted an invitation to attend the outing.

Five hundred and eighty flags will be carried by the children and each machine will have a flag on the headlights. Large placards bearing the inscription "Children's Outing, Lowell Rotary Club" will be attached to each car. These cars will also have numbered from 1 to 50, excluding the number 13.

On arrival at the grounds, the children will be given lily-pops, Moxie, orangeade, popcorn and balloons in addition to the regular lunch. In the afternoon entertainment will be provided, the nature of which will be provided by the children and will be a Punch and Judy show.

Through the courtesy of Supt. Kernan of the park department, a full set of playground paraphernalia will be on hand as well as a number of supervisors under the personal direction of Mr. Kernan himself.

Miss Gage of the Gage Ice Co. has generously donated 10 cakes of ice for the occasion, and 1500 one-quarter pint bottles of pasteurized milk have been donated by the following dealers: John Moody of the Turner Creamery; the Durbeck Co.; Dishner Bros.; Cajoia Co.; W. J. Farrell; Caldwell and Sons; the Marshall Co. and B. F. Butler.

A photographer from the Pathé News Co. has promised to attend and take moving pictures of the various events. These pictures will be shown later in this city and then distributed to Rotary clubs throughout the state. In general, everything will be conducted similar to last year's affair, which met with such great success. The following were present at today's meeting: Harry Pitts, chairman; President Hutter Parker; Harry Pollard; Junior Joyce; Roy Farber; William Mitchell; Ben Boucane; Thomas Lees; Robert Thompson and Al Weaver. The next meeting will be held at the same place next Friday morning at 10:30.

PETITION FOR SUB- POSTOFFICE

Postmaster Xavier A. Deffle is in receipt of a petition for the establishment of a sub post-office at the corner of High and Andover streets. The postmaster has investigated conditions in that neighborhood and believes that a station in that vicinity would be a real service to the community. He has, therefore, transmitted the petition to Washington with a recommendation that the request be granted. The Bolviders drug store is being considered as a possible location for the new station, as the petition is signed by about twenty-five residents in that vicinity.
